BATTLE

BATTLE, a term usually associated with violence, is more relevant to us teenagers than we know. Our life is a battle, whether we admit it or not. We are all constantly battling to create an identity of our own, a future for our families, and a legacy to leave behind. This is not a simple battle that can be easily resolved, and it is one that will endure throughout our lives. We will remember these years at Battlefield for years and years to come,

BATTLE field

and although we will battle through many hard times, we prevail through them all and we are rewarded with some of the greatest and craziest times we will ever have. Homecoming is more than just a dance and a game, school is more than just a place we are forced to learn, and the people at Battlefield are more than just the people we went to high school with. Everything comes together to shape who we are. So no matter what battles we must endure in order to accomplish our dreams, take on all those challenges with integrity and courage, and remember to leave it all on the field.

STUDENT LIFE

OUR BATTLE

We all love school for one main reason - to see our friends. Sure we all come to struggle through the endless piles of homework we've accumulated through the week, but we only get out of bed in the morning because we know we're going to get to hang out with the people we care about. Let's face it, short of torturing teachers in the classrooms, getting together with our buds after class is over is the best part of the day. And nothing through the year even compares to the beginning. With the football games, Spirit Week, and the Pep Rally, it is by far the best time of the year. But don't take these moments in with a light heart. For seniors, this year presented them with their last high school spirit week while juniors know their last pep rally is soon to come. Our times at BHS are coming to a close quicker than any of us realize.

5. Seniors created a sign that put the underclassmen in their places.

SPIRIT WEEK!

Spirit Week has been an annual tradition at Battlefield since the first year that it opened. Many students across the school have been awaiting the arrival of Spirit Week. Spirit Week gives the different classes the chance to show their school spirit by dressing up in different clothes to represent the different days. The Monday of Spirit Week was Get Up and Go Day; this gave the student body an opportunity to dress in their pajamas and be comfortable in school. Tuesday was Disney Day, and the students dressed up in their best Disney character costumes. Wednesday, students showed up at school with some of their wackiest outfits. Thursday was Decades Day where each class had a different decade. And Friday was everybody's favorite day, Class Color Day. Each class had a different color: freshmen wore silver, sophomores wore purple, juniors wore black, and of course the seniors wore white and they dressed in their togas.

1. Seniors Gretchen Schumaker and Sammie Houser cheer on their fellow classmate who is on the dance team.

THE STUDENTS PREPARE FOR THE BIG BATTLE AT THE PEP RALLY

The screams can be heard from anywhere outside the school as each class cheers for their class year. Seniors are celebrating as they walk into the stadium wearing their white togas, while freshmen are booed by all the upperclassmen. The athletic teams are honored and our mascot encourages everyone to show their school spirit as he points the spirit stick towards each class. There are competitions among students and teachers that get all the students cheering for their favorites.

Everyone looks forward to our big Homecoming Pep Rally to pump up our Varsity Football team for their big game and just have a relaxing afternoon to get ready for the big game and the Homecoming Dance that is coming up the next night. The Pep Rally provides an excellent chance for students to show off their school spirit and participate in competitions among teachers and friends. It also pumps up our student body for the big homecoming game that night. Though Battlefield has more than one pep rally, the Homecoming Pep Rally tends to pump the students up the most.

Bobcats vs. Liberty Homecoming '08

The Homecoming Game had a vast turnout this year. It was the largest crowd to ever show up in Battlefield's history. The entire community showed up for the game, filling the parking lot. The fans rushed to the bleachers, awaiting the Bobcats to storm the field. The crowd roared as the Bobcats scored touchdown after touchdown.

Once again, the Bobcats won, making the team undefeated with a 6-0. The team really stepped it up, leaving the crowd and the team proud to be a Bobcat.

Right: Junior Danny Drzal runs the ball gaining a couple yards on the play.

Senior cornerback Korbin Edwards makes the tackle against the Liberty receiver.

Right: Seniors Jessica Jacobson and Miles Brewer are crowned Homecoming King and Queen.

The Liberty Eagles being smeared across the field like butter on bread. Somehow they left with no broken bones, but did leave with defeat.

Pumping up the crowd, the marching band plays the National Anthem before the game.

The Homecoming Dance is an annual celebration that follows the Homecoming Game in spirit of the new school year.

The most exciting part of this event is nominating fellow peers for homecoming court. Watching the King and Queen walk down the red carpet at the dance is a spectacular part of the night.

The students who attend this dance have a wonderful time and want to come back next year. Bobcats always find a way to make this event one of the best experiences of the year.

This year the theme of the dance was A Blast From The Past. The DJ took the students back in time by playing some old school music such as The Fugees and even the famous hit song, "I Like Big Butts," by Sir Mixalot. A Blast From The Past Dance was a truly exciting event filled with memories that will last a lifetime.

Above: As the DJ decides to crank it up, the crowd worked up a sweat. The entire night was full of dancing and fresh beats courtesy of the DJ. Students who came out to dance for the evening made the dance a wonderful and exciting time.

DA DEN

LOUD.RAMBUNCTIOUS.CRAZY.SPIRITED.

At every football and basketball game, Da Den is there cheering on the players and keeping the fans pumped up during the game. Da Den was the upperclassmen student cheering section; however it was made up of mostly seniors. It was created during the first year and the tradition has continued ever since. Led by seniors Britt Hoover and Gary Martin, the section painted their bodies, made signs, and yelled at the other team and refs. In addition to painting their bodies, they wore outrageous outfits that included oversized wigs, long socks, capes, and extremely short shorts. They had their pictures taken and appeared in video highlights of the games.

The opposing teams never liked Da Den for being loud and taking them out of their game, but the opposing fans envied their spirit and originality. Some chants shouted during games included "Make Some Noise," "Nuts and Bolts," "We are the Champions," and "Na Na Na Na." Da Den never let the crowd down and always guaranteed an exciting game. Da Den's tradition will go on for years to come and will live in Battlefield's history forever.

The seniors are all about cheering for the Bobcats. They are decked out from head to toe in purple, black, and silver. Never missing a game, they show up in rain or shine and are always ready to chant or cheer with the crowd.

Seniors Justin "Smiles" and Sam Schuller take a picture with juniors Tyler P, Dillon Goolsby, Carlos Lucca, Dominic Ciavarrro, Ty Lysinger, and Tim Frerichs in the back of junior Ryne Adkins' truck. Almost all of the guys are part of their own group and say they consider themselves "as close to family as possible."

FRIENDS THROUGH IT ALL...

Friends seem to be the one thing that keeps everyone in school from going crazy. Every year, as summer approaches its end, most students will say, "The only reason I'm glad we're going back is because I get to see more of my friends." And of course, we all know those people who are going to be friends many, many years from now. Friends pick us up when we're down, make us laugh when we want to cry, stop us from making decisions that will change our lives, and help us fight through this battle we call life. There aren't any words that can explain how important friendship is. In fact, it needs no explanation. Let us enjoy the time we have together before it's gone.

Junior Hannah Yelinek, sophomore Nicole Dierolf, and juniors Kelsey Trace and Maria Bruno jump into the air for an "action shot" together. The girls have been close for "long enough to not let stupid things bother us," says Hannah.

Seniors Cooper Bull, Nick Brock, and Robert Darling pose for a picture together after getting out of watching films for football.

Seniors Sammie Houser and Britni Coleman together at Emerald Isle over the summer. They have been friends for a very long time and have cleverly nicknamed themselves, "BS."

Juniors Ashley Shaner, Lyndsey Hill, Rachel Jacobius, and Casey Guth show their 1960's spirit together before leaving school after Theme Day.

Bottom: Juniors Carly Glenn and Laura Santner dress up as characters from Mulan and Pirates of the Caribbean together on Disney Day.

Look-A-Likes.

It seems as if the hallways of Battlefield need to be lined with red carpet. We have a ton of celebrity look-a-likes ranging from "The Rock" all the way to "Mclovin'". We didn't know it was possible, but some of our students even resemble cartoons. As the paparazzi, we managed to capture million dollar pictures of our Battlefield celebrities.

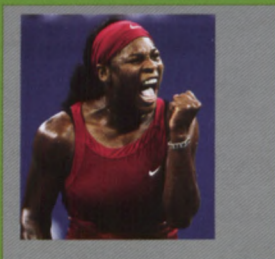

When Battlefield's students picture a celebrity, their minds automatically think of parties, VIP, money, fancy cars, and gossip magazines. When they're not doing homework, they are watching celebrity shows, or catching up on the latest news from Perez Hilton's blog, all the while wishing and dreaming that they could be like them.

Celebrities may be in magazines and in all the movies, but in reality they are just like us. They love to win at sports, laugh at a good joke, and even take a Roadtrip. They make funny faces, try to look tough, and like to dance the night away at a good party. And if you're lucky you may catch a celebrity ice-skating at an icerink near you.

Our Battlefield celebrities may resemble these million dollar stars, but they still eat in our cafeteria, endure 180 days of school, and go through the drama of the teenage years. Lesson to be learned, Battlefield: always remember we are all the same, no matter how rich or famous.

Jeffry Scott and DJ Qualls should take a Roadtrip together

Jessica Smith also loves to win, just like Serena Williams.

Brandon Oh may not be 7'6" like Yao Ming, but he still has game.

Megan Santos turns heads just like Jessica Simpson.

TROPHY SCARS

"My tattoo represents the Holy Trinity," says senior Joey Zappia.

Junior Kacie Rossman strolls down the hall showing off her stretched ear lobes.

Senior Jenny Gilray proudly expresses her passion for love and world peace with the famous universal symbol tattooed to the back of her neck. "In a way, I'm fighting against the battle in my life. I wish everyone would learn new and creative ways to settle disputes besides losing their families in war.

Senior Sheldon Tapscott proudly remembers the impact his 'Uncle C' had on his life. "Everyone in my family has this tattoo. We loved Uncle C and will never forget his incredible life."

An imbedded symbol of bravery. Ink stained skin and punctured flesh colorfully illustrate our lives' passions, values, and culture. Much more than the pitiful act of teenage rebellion, body piercing and tattoos derive from ancient foundations.

Dating back to over 2000 years ago, Polynesian societies in the Oceania region created the art of the 'tatau'. The techniques learned were passed on from father to son. These civilizations placed great importance on rank in society. The ornate decorations were etched into the warriors and chiefs who earned leadership roles. On the other side of the world, body piercing was a genesis in Africa as well as Indonesia. In these pre-industrial societies, gauging the ears became exceedingly popular. As we know, even though these ancient techniques of body modification are not important to the 'modern society'; they are becoming a relevant portrait of the young generation.

Pain is a very common word used to describe the feeling of having a sharp object penetrate the body. Although this is true, many students in Battlefield High School think of the action as bittersweet. They are scars people have earned and chosen to solidify individual personalities. Body piercings and tattoos are not only scars, but trophies. We display them on our bodies instead of our shelves for the world to see; and there is no shame. Whether it be a Roman gladiator piercing to impress fierceness to the enemy or a modern-day gauge in the lobe to look unique, we have earned our trophy scars.

Battle of the Sexes

Guys and girls are always talking about how one is better than the other and they are not putting themselves in the other gender's shoes. When you step back and look at other people's points of view, you will most likely change your mind set on some things. People sometimes wish they could ask someone a question, like what they are thinking or why they fight. You obviously can not change who you are to be someone else. If we all knew how the opposite gender thinks maybe we wouldn't have a feud. We asked some Battlefield students questions about the opposite sex and here is what they said: "Guys do not have strings attached, they keep the drama down and they are straight up about problems they may have," says junior, Alina Gasperino. "Girls are better because they're more emotional and sensitive to other people's needs, boys just don't get that," says senior Sara Miller. Yeah we can understand and give people sympathy but when it comes down to it we need people that are strong and get to the point. We can't be "all talk and no action". At the end of the day we all come together and realize there is no difference between us except for the obvious ones. One of the questions we asked was, how you do you feel about Feminism? "Femininity is a natural emotion that comes straight from the heart and should be embraced," said Joel Correa. We are not saying that girls have an excuse to break down for no reason, but we are saying that they really can not deal with it so guys just need to put up with that.

1. (Left to Right) Sophomores Kim Ennis, Blair Claflin and Colleen Ratigan have to check themselves before they go back to class

2. Guys and Gals: Always battling over who's better.

Adrian Ingram
Senior

"Personality is number 1, fresh clothes, and she has to be cute."

Abby Regis
Freshman

"My friends have to like him, super family oriented, and is very sweet to me."

Cassaundra Stokes, Junior

"Tall, not a jerk, and has to smell nice."

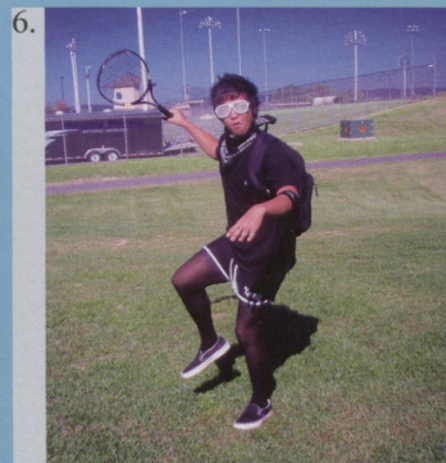

3. "Men and women are equal mentally but not always physically," states Sarah Hickey

4. Juniors Erin Rooney and Brogan McCauley get in a newspaper fight. Meanwhile, Erin thinks she's got the victory.

5. (Left to right) Seniors Pierce Bishop, Ben Burden, and Gary Martin spend some quality time together at the urinals.

6. The one question that junior Paul Park would ask a girl is "Wanna play some tennis?"

7. Junior Dominic Ciavarro says, "You have to be relaxed and confident around girls." One question junior Talyor Driesell would ask a guy is "Why do you feel the need to show off ?in front of girls?"

Farah Farhat
Junior

"He has to know when I'm upset, listens to me, and has to be sweet."

Dillon Goolsby
Junior

"She has to look good and have nice eyes. And she needs to be smart."

Damar Walker
Sophomore

"Crazy, nice, and good appearance."

Ian Taylor
Senior

"Outgoing, decent looks and a body."

Fun In The Sun

Left: Junior Carly Glenn swimming in the rain at Lake George.

"A vacation is like love, anticipated with pleasure, experienced with discomfort, and remembered with nostalgia."- Author Unknown. We all count down the days till summer time. Most of us agree that the best thing about summer is vacation. To every bobcat, summer has different definitions. To some it means 'chillin' at their house with their friends and family. To others it means going to exotic places all over the world. Every bobcat can enjoy some sand, sun, and surf. We all need a little fun in the sun to help leave behind the stress of the school year.

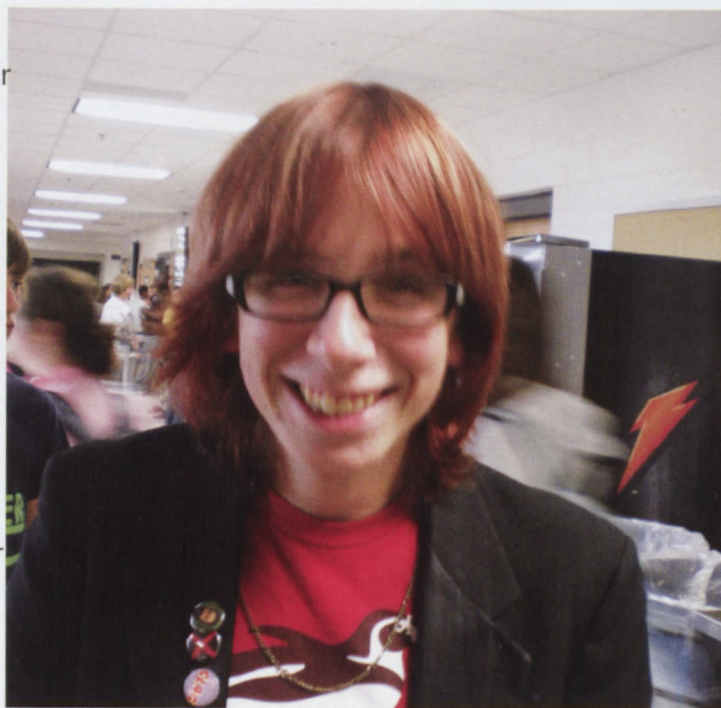

The Pre-AP 4 Spanish classes were able to travel on their own Euro Trip. Mrs. Byers and the students spent ten days in Spain. Just like the mind set of most students they wanted to get a break, let go, and leave the stress at home. It's time for vacation. Going to school for ten months definitely deserves a nice long break, so summer is the best time of year for most students at Battlefield. The three months away from school rejuvenates bobcats to get ready for the school year in September. Tara Kinney went with her church on a mission trip to Brazil for 12 days. She helped needy children at an orphanage. They also went to Amazon Island. "The island had only 1,000 people who live on it. That was an experience that will stay with me for the rest of my life," she said.

Darion Duncun went to Florida for two months. While he was there he hung out with his family and friends at the beach. While he was there his basketball team went to nationals in Orlando. Jennifer Bain went to Outer Banks in North Carolina for four weeks. While she was there she went crabbing and watched fireworks on the 4th of July. The memories our bobcats make will always be remembered when they think about their years at Battlefield High School.

OUR GENERATION'S BATTLE CRY

How do you deal with the pressures of school? Most Battlefield students find music to relieve stress of their everyday lives. Some students may find that playing music of their own, creating their own art, is a good substitution for looking for the perfect song. Whether they play guitar, bass, drums, or even more classical instruments like pianos and violins, everyone who plays music has something in common: creativity. Battlefield is home to some of the most talented musicians in the area, some of which have great potential to become professionals, to have their art listened to by a wider audience. It doesn't matter whether you listen to rock, alternative, indie, rap, metal, country, folk, electronica, punk, or whatever suits your taste, music takes you out of everyday worries and puts you into a care-free world filled with endless possibilities. It's self expression in its purest form. The second you put on your headphones, plug in your speakers, or crank your car stereo to windshield shattering levels of bass, the music lays out an endless sonic landscape filled with magnificent rhythmic grooves and weightless melodies.

Lead singer/rhythm guitarist of The Pressmen, Drew Prendergast, loves indie music and enjoys writing music that reflects his influences.

In Living Color is an electronica group composed of seniors Will Hyde and Taylor Donelson, junior Andrew Utterback, and sophomore Drew Hyde.

The Pressmen is a funk metal band with a mix of heavy guitar riffs and punchy bass lines. Their members include sophomores Michael Feldmann - bass, Drew Prendergast - singer, Tim Bridgwood - drums, and senior Joe Feldmann - guitar.

Christian-rock band, Restless Street, consists of seniors Jon White, Cole Wallowac, Travis Ey, Korbin Doss, and Jamal Wallace. They have been fortunate enough to have played the 9:30 Club and Jaxx.

Armed and Ready for Class

Students at Battlefield High School this year are geared up with many different fashions. One tool they can't go without are their bags and backpacks. Boys are mainly sporting regular backpacks or Nike drawstring bags.

Girls are carrying a variety of brand name totes like Vera Bradley, Andy Warhol, and Coach. Girls are also wearing Janesport backpacks and Dickies backpacks. These backpacks range from colorful eye catchers to "plain jane" arm accessories.

Left: Sophomore Quing Snyder has a interesting dinosaur printed backpack. It is very colorful and fits her personality very well.

Right: Senior Lisa Ulrich and Junior Keisha Lang both enjoy carrying Vera Bradley Bags over backpacks any day.

Junior Matthew Cipolla wears the very common Nike drawstring bag to represent his athleticism.

Senior Jon Thorton keeps his cool paint splattered backpack from Journey's on his back even during his lunch period.

When asked if they liked backpacks or messenger bags more, junior Denise Eleazer and her sophomore friend Becky Chaplin both agreed they like backpacks more.

Left: 10th graders Maya Gaht and Whitney Talkington both got their fashionable bags from the new T.J. Maxx in Bristow.

GOING GREEN

Above: It seems to be the latest trend to show off natural beauty.

The students at Battlefield High School have taken it upon themselves to help save the Earth. The "Going Green" phenomenon that has swept the nation can be clearly observed in our hallways. Students big and small are carrying recycled cotton tote bags, advertising the recycling message on their garments, and conserving paper as much as possible. At the beginning of this year BHS announced that it was one of their goals to become paper-less. Teachers use Smartboards instead of handing out worksheets and have their students print out assignments at home.

The Enviornmental Club's recycling program is also being utilized for the student body's effort of "Going Green."

In these times where, fossil fules are so expensive, many student drivers, as well as teachers, have opted for a Hybrid rather than a gas-guzzler. These friendly vehicles are nice to the wallet and to our Mother Earth. These efforts to help preserve our planet should not be done in vain. Battlefield students are taking the initiative to conserve our world, and others should follow in their admirable footsteps.

Above: Everyone is delighted when it comes to recycling something as good as SunnyD.

Right: Seniors Gretchen Schumaker and Devin Starrs jump for joy when it comes to keeping the Earth clean and healthy.

PEOPLE

BATTLE FOR INDIVIDUALITY

To the freshmen: The following pictures show the people that will mold you into the people you will become. To the sophomores: In the pages that follow you look for the people you know are important to you, the ones who are helping you on your way through the high school hierarchy. For the Juniors: You know that when you flip the pages, the pictures of certain people are going to make you feel a certain way. These people have helped you along thus far, and you will never forget them. And for the seniors, this is it. It's time to move on to the next chapter of your lives. It's been a constant struggle for four years. Even after battling through relationship problems, friend drama, and school grades, you have found time to make some great memories, good and bad. Good luck to the class of 2009, your journey has just started. And as you look at the pictures that follow, take note of the importance of every person that made you who you are today.

Lisa-Marie Bergstein

Who's that funny, crazy, nice, German Girl? That's me Lisa-Marie the German exchange student. My exchange year has been a big dream of mine since I was a little girl, but I never thought my dream would come true therefore first I want to thank my great Mama and Papa (my awesome parents) to make it happen. I always knew I wanted to travel, learn about new cultures and different languages. Now I'm here and realize that I want to continue to make this a part of my future life. I came to the U.S on August 23, 2008 into a strange family who I have never met before. Of course it's risky, but I looked at it as my new adventure and it turned out to be good. My host family has been nice to me and very helpful. I remember feeling nervous and yet excited to start my American High School experience. September 2, 2008 finally came and I won't forget walking down the sidewalk to my bus and all of sudden I saw this huge piece of cheese on wheels. It was weird, because in Germany students ride the public bus. As I got off the bus my first impression was: "wow, this school is huge". I mean, my school in Germany has just 700 students that's for grade 5-13. And at Battlefield the student's population is about the size of my whole village. I was shocked as I heard that one class period is about 90 min each, because in Germany they're just 45 min. (I thought I would go crazy) now I can understand why so many American Students fall in sleep in class. A funny memory I have is when I got my first unexcused tardy. I had to walk from the trailer all the way to the attendance, just for a little piece of blue paper. Back home in Germany I would just bring a cake or I have a smart excuse. Our schools don't have that many rules. Security!?! You won't find them in German schools. Something we do have in Germany and I miss it a lot is partying and clubbing where we can drink and dance until the morning, because the drinking age is 16 but we have to be 18 to drive. If someone ever asks me if they should do exchange I would say: "DEFINELY!", but keep in open mind that things are not always good or bad, they're just different. But it's worth it. I learned more about myself while learning about a new culture. The most important things I will take home with me is my friendships which I will miss a lot and the strength I found in myself and to never fear new things.

Britt Hoover

Lacrosse is my life. Every aspect of my life revolves around it. I am always thinking about it, looking up nasty gear online, or chatting on some intense forums and obviously playing it.

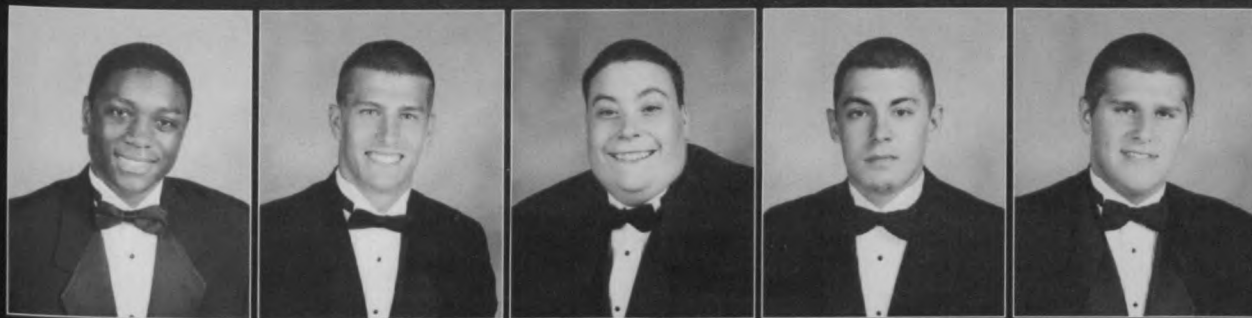

I started playing in 2nd grade at Highland School in Warrenton. Every since I have had a lacrosse stick in my hand, I have been playing non stop. I have had many people who have transformed me into the lacrosse player I am today. I have to give props to all my coaches, teammates, my flow, my bothers, and especially my mom and my dad.

At Battlefield High School I made the varsity team as a freshman. I started some games freshman year and gained some important experience. I was on the team with my two older brothers Donnie and Chase, which made the season fun and unforgettable. Sophomore year was my breakout season; I broke the Single Season Scoring Record with 39 goals. Junior year I broke the All-Time Goals record. Both of these I took from my older brother Chase. To go along with these records I was also named to First Team All Prince William County and All Cedar Run District both years.

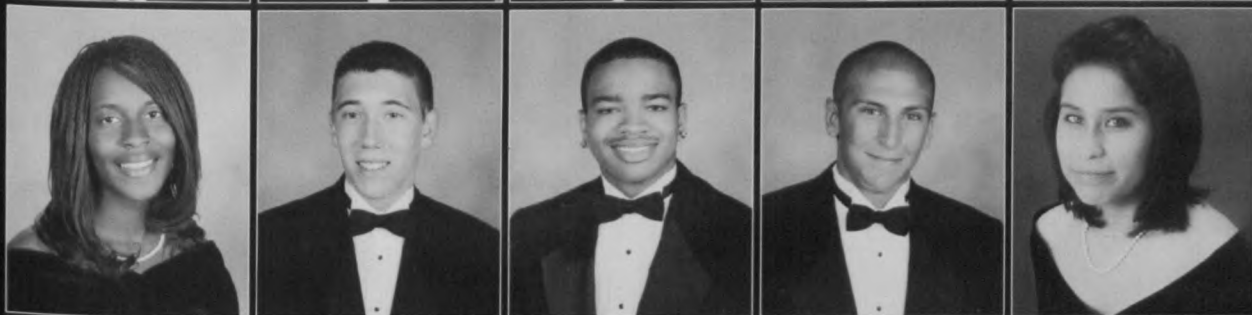

Next year I will be playing lacrosse at Christopher Newport University. They have a solid lacrosse program and have some saucy gear. They are sponsored by Nike which is also big plus. Along with the tight perks and lacrosse it will be a good fit because I plan to be a high school teacher and lacrosse coach when I graduate. CNU has a very good Masters Program in Education. I am extremely excited to start playing college lacrosse. It will definitely open my eyes up to a different level of play and challenge me like I haven't been before but I believe that I am up to the challenge.

Devin Starrs

Throughout high school I have learned many life experiences that will help me out in my life ahead. DECA was one club that helped influence my choice to study marketing in college and hopefully someday find a job in that industry. DECA is a club that welcomes all marketing student to learn the ins and outs of the marketing industry. I had been an active member of DECA since my junior year and at the beginning of my senior year I decided to run for Executive Vice-President of Battlefield's DECA chapter.

Throughout the year I have been participating in DECA events such as the Turkey Teacher contest and the District Leadership Conference that are available to all DECA members. I don't think I could have had as much fun with DECA if my fashion marketing teacher, Ms. Smith, was not the advisor. She allows her students to have as much fun as possible to a certain limit.

In March of my senior year I attended the Virginia State Leadership Conference for DECA. It was a 3 day event in Norfolk, Virginia where students from all around the state met and compete in categories that related to marketing. I competed in the Retail Marketing portion of the competition. I ended up finishing the competition with a 70% overall rating which is really good. In April I will attend the National Leadership Competition to serve as part of the Senior Delegate Committee.

DECA has made me the person I am today. Without the guidance from Ms. Smith and the influence to learn more about marketing I wouldn't have decided to attend college and major in Marketing.

Jessica Jacobson

As my senior year comes to a close, I look back on all the memories I have made. From sharing in the school spirit of 'Da Den,' whom might I say is the most spirited group of students Battlefield has yet seen, to playing in the Senior vs. Faculty basketball game in which the Seniors took the 'W', these are the memories that will never be forgotten. I owe my senior year to my friends, family, and teachers, whom have supported me and helped me become the person I am today. Without them I would never have dreamed of doing some of the things I have done; thus, I would have not accomplished all that I have.

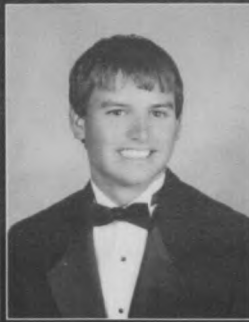

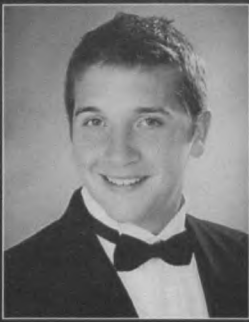

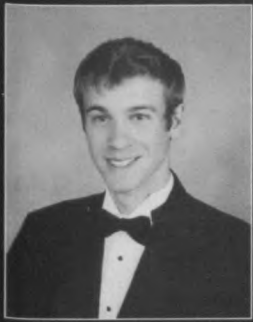

To my friends and teammates, you have been there through thick and thin, and have picked me up when I have fallen. You guys have made my high school years unforgettable. As I write this entry, I laugh at the little things we have done: playing tricks on April Fool's Day, running in heels and tripping on New Year's Eve, and putting glitter on our eyes before big games. Oh, and I cannot forget all the times we laughed until we cried. The moments I have spent with each of you will be cherished forever.

To my teachers, I thank you for all of the instruction, guidance, and support you have given me throughout the years, and I am extremely thankful for all the extra help you have given me before and after school. I must admit, this thing called 'Senoritis' is starting to kick in, but I am trying my best to ward off this contagious disease.

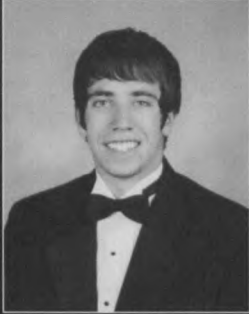

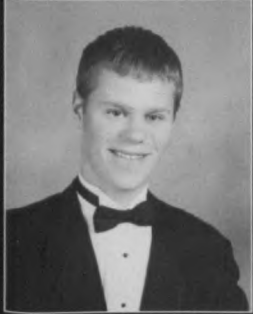

And finally to the senior class, thank you for giving me the opportunity to represent you as Vice President for the last two years. It is because of you that there will be a legacy left at Battlefield High School, because we are the Class of 2009. As Reese Witherspoon said in Legally Blonde, "Congratulations 2009, we did it!!"

Gretchen Schumacker

This was my fourth and final year in Battlefield High School. Next year I am going off to Longwood University and living with my best friend Sammie Jo Houser. I have lived here most of my life, and I am going to miss all the people that I have grown up with through the years. These years at Battlefield High School have taught me many valuable life lessons. I've learned that you should keep your friends close to you, work hard, and follow your heart.

When I was going into high school, I wish I had someone to tell me the in's and out's. I wish I could have gone back and done it all over again. I wish I actually had tried to pay attention in classes. Senioritis hit me my sophomore year and I have been done ever since. My favorite teachers have kept me in line over the years. Mr. Fitzgerald, my teacher of two years, has had the biggest influence on me and my education. He was my yearbook teacher for two years and my English teacher for one year. He has made me really want to go to college, pursue my dreams, and make something of myself. I am going to miss him next year, and I won't be able to visit him when I come home. Another is Mrs. Provenzano, my freshman English teacher, she is still my favorite teacher, and I can tell her anything.

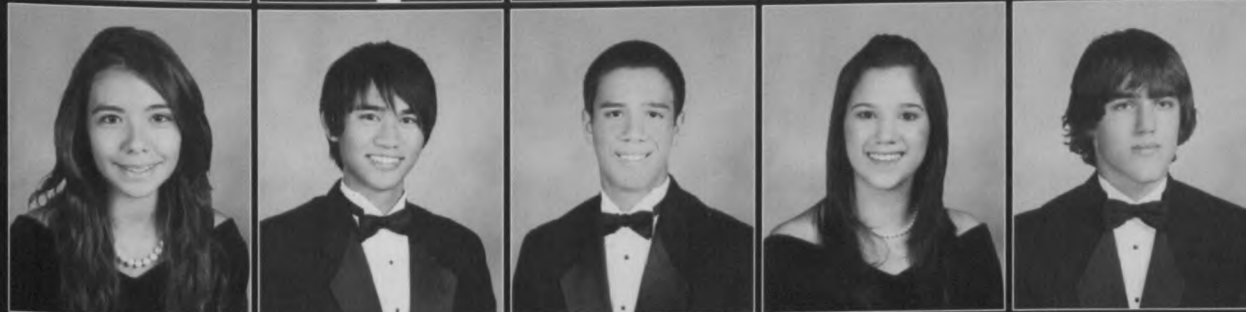

Next year is going to be different and hard. Though all the years here have prepared me and I know I can make it. Class of 2009, we have reached the end of our journey. I wish you all good luck the next few years.

Ashley Loera

Coming from a small private school, my first day of Battlefield High School was terrifying. Fortunately, I joined the field hockey team and made what I believe to be life-long friends. I learned to meet people by being involved in school clubs and joining sports every season of the year. I joined the Environmental Club because it deals with issues that I truly care about. I also joined Key Club because I am dedicated to volunteering. My freshmen year I played field hockey, swam, and played soccer for Battlefield. Playing sports gave me the opportunity to be more outgoing towards people in my classes. Being a part of a team gave me support from my teammates. I learned that playing a sport is not about being the best, but working together. I learned this because I have never been the best at anything that I have attempted, but because of that I have strived at everything, from enduring the three hour field hockey practices to dropping time on my freestyle. As I became more comfortable I began to see Battlefield as my own school, and not somewhere I am a stranger to. I have met more people every year and created friendships. The most important value I have learned at Battlefield is how to be social and polite towards everyone, because you never know when you will meet someone who will become an crucial person in your life.

ACADEMICS

BATTLE FOR SUCCESS

Academics... it's why we are all here. Everyone says that the only reason they like school is because they get to be with their friends, when the real reason we are here is because we are trying to get ourselves into college or work. We all underestimate the importance of the actual work that school entails. For some of us, some of these pages will bring back the feeling of dread that comes down on those walking into Algebra. For others, memories of laughing and jokes prevail. Whatever the case is, we should cherish the moments. We all fight to be successful in this world, and the way to achieve that goal is to do the best that we can do in high school. Sure, it will be challenging at times, but that should make us strive to be better. So think back these times of hard work and good times and remember that these teachers molded who we are today.

ART/NAHS

There are many ways to express feelings. One of these ways is with art. With art, you can tell stories, create dreams, and change lives. National Art Honor Society brings art to Battlefield. It is made up of students who can express their feelings and individuality in different forms. They can express themselves through colors and shading and show people how they feel from a different perspective. Art is much more than putting a pencil on paper and doodling randomly; it takes determination and hard work. There are different types of art, such as painting, sculpture, and photography. If you have ever liked music, you have appreciated art. NAHS brings out the best of BHS art and showcases it, and we should be proud of these fine artists.

Mrs. Burns

"Art provides opportunities for students to express themselves in different ways."

Mrs. Graham

"Everyone should be exposed to art. It will teach us all about ourselves."

James Kutz

"I like art. Drawing is fun and helps pass the time."

BAND & TRI-M

Have you ever wondered why when a kid decides to take a band class or any type of music class in Battlefield, it becomes sort of an obsession? Yeah, we all know...it's true. Students don't ask to be intrigued by the addictive high that is received when performing pieces by composers with foreign names, it just happens. Year after year, Mr. Brodt encourages not only the success of the class as a whole, but also individual students' potential. Students who pursue this passion with music along side their dedication to core subjects in school often join Tri-M Music Honor Society. This program was intended to congregate and reward those students who display strong musical skills, leadership, and altogether have positive futures with the assistance of their musical talent.

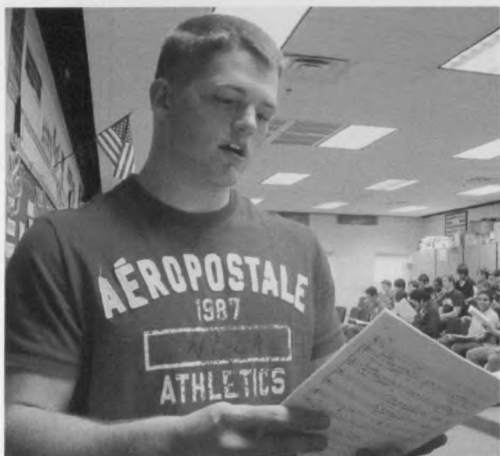

Mrs. Gregory speaks to a class before a performance of the clarinet section during a Tri-M meeting.

CHORUS

Mrs. Gregory tells her class about a new way of reviewing for tests: texting buddies. Mrs. Gregory was inspired to be a choir director at a very young age. "I knew I wanted to be a choir director when I was in 2nd grade, and I stuck with it all the way through. I love that it's different everyday, I do a different activity each day with my students. I just love how hard my students work to get to perfection. They are the best!"

Above is senior Austin Butler practicing one of his songs. "I believe music makes a stronger character. Personally, I can't function without music in my life."

Below: Sophomore Drew Prendergast expresses himself through singing: "Music taught me how to stop being a singer, and become a musician."

Above: Junior Bobby Seagers proudly states, "It's more challenging then what people think. It is relaxing to know you can come here and just let go."

Above: Senior Chris Wyeth says, "I started chorus in 6th grade, stuck with it throughout high school, and now it has become a part of my life."

Several students finish up their first rough draft, still having a long way to go

Writers help each other out on their papers by editing and then going over the papers with each other.

Sophomore Kelsey Wheaton learns the true art of editing, thus making her work much more profound.

Writers meticulously go over their work, looking for even the slightest mistakes.

Above: Kathleen McGregor students take time to peer-edit each others papers.

Creative Writing

"Night fell clean and cold in Dublin, and wind moaned beyond my room as if a million pipes played the air." Patricia Cornwell

Ever want to let your creative side show? Well in creative writing, you can let your creative side out. In this class you can write whatever your heart desires and then some. You are taught how to write in different forms of writing. In this class, you are making and distributing the literary magazine. They can submit either poems, fiction, non fiction, or drama writings. In Creative writing students write and revise to develop voice and style skills. They will write on a variety of topic such as fiction, non-fiction, scripts, and poetry. They will submit their work for publication and presentation. In the creative writing class I further develop their skills through revisions and elaboration. They examine the writings of professional writers they also organize writing contest. The classes are led by either Mr. Lem or Ms. Brever. You can start with Creative Writing I and then move onto Creative Writing II to further your creativeness. In Creative Writing II you examine the composing processes of famous writers.

Senior Brian DeLost peer edits his friends writing assignment.

Group discussion help writers to get other opinions on their work.

AFJROTC

The Junior ROTC program at Battlefield is a simulation of being in the U.S. Military. This program prepares the high school students for what is expected in the military. These cadets are trained by the selected curriculum that trains them to become the next generation's leaders. Many who have taken this class have gone on to wear our country's prestigious uniform. The students occasionally wear military uniforms to school to show their honor and patriotism. These fine boys and girls all hope of one day fulfilling their dreams to be in the Air Force, Army, Marines, or Navy.

Criminal Justice

The Battlefield High School Criminal Justice classes allow students to experience a career in the field of fighting crime. For example, the criminal justice class learns about criminals from the past, the classification of criminals, court proceedings, defense techniques, and the breakdown of laws. Senior, Matt Shaugnessy says his favorite part of the class is "Crook of the Week." The class is divided into groups that research a different criminal every week. At the end of the week the groups create a Power Point to teach the class about the criminal they have researched.

Mr. Fletcher is demonstrating how to use the powder for finding fingerprints in a crime scene.

Above: Juniors Bobby Seagars, Brandon McMahon, and Greg Woodlock work on the latest practice essay that Mrs. Edwards assigned in preparation of the midterm.

Below: Mrs. Lucas talks to her AP 12 students about their new book called Atonement.

Preparation for Life

English is a required course for every grade, and a favorite of many. From freshmen year through senior year, Battlefield students have to complete four years of English. It helps students to build skills they will need before and after graduation. Freshmen are reading To Kill A Mockingbird, sophomores read Julius Caesar, juniors read the book The Scarlet Letter, and finally the seniors read books like Beowulf and Macbeth. These books are required in order to allow Battlefield students to enhance their vocabulary and comprehension skills. English is a course that helps to expand a student's mind. It also helps students to prepare resumes, college applications, and essays needed for their future. This class is also important to ensure students are prepared for college and beyond. The skills taught in these classes will stay with a student well after graduation.

Below: Senior Gabby Cause catches up on some recreational reading before class starts as some other students pose for a quick senior picture.

Finishing up their work this class still has a little bit of time to relax before the bell rings.

Mrs. Byers Ap Spanish class has free time at the end of class as a reward for being good all class

Foreign Languages

Here at Battlefield we have an abundance of foreign languages to choose from. Spanish is the popular language to take due to its practical use and commonness. The other languages we offer here are Latin, French, and German. Latin is mainly used in the medical field of study and can also help on the SAT. French and German are really fun languages to take and use when traveling to Europe.

In April and June the foreign language classes have a World Cup Soccer Tournament. Classes represent their respective countries. Spanish would be Spanish speaking countries like Spain and Argentina while German would be Germany; French is France, and Latin Italy. So far the Spanish classes have been the dominate language.

Overall this year has been fantastic with all of the activities and participation we got out of students and teachers.

Freshman Nick Hutchinson puts a thumbs to the spectacular teching that he has recieved this year from his German teacher. Also he states that "German is a great experience".

Above: These kids work really hard in AP Spanish to not only make the commitment to the clss and themselves but to the school.

Below: The famous Cat Country sign overlooks the students as they participate in P.E.

HPE/Weightlifting

Not just a past time.

Most students at Battlefield dread the cursed sit-ups, pushups, and running that make up P.E., but it is the sit-ups, pushups, and running that make us stronger and more healthy. The encouragement that the numerous P.E. teachers give to the students also helps to boost their spirits during these exercises. P.E. helps students learn the basic rules and regulations of popular sports that most athletes play today. The other half of the P.E. curriculum is the Health Department that teaches the students the multiple ways to take care of your body and to learn about the many diseases that one can come in contact with throughout their lifetime. It is a necessary and interesting course that many students enjoy. Students in their junior and senior year can look forward to taking weightlifting, instead of taking P.E.

Weightlifting works all the muscles and joints of one's body and can improve an athlete's technique and muscle strength for the sport that they are going to play. Weightlifting is a good learning experience for older students because they learn more about their different muscle strengths. Students also learn about exercises they can perform to obtain certain strengths for parts of their body. Students are supervised during weightlifting by Mr. Mello so no injuries or accidents occur during the class. This class also teaches students to trust and respect each other during the exercises when spotting is needed. Some of these intense exercises include bench press, curls, deadlift, squatting, ab workouts and many more extreme workout exercises.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING

History class provides Battlefield students a fun chance to learn about the past of our country and about how our government works. Senior Shannon Cleary said the best part of government class is, "Learning about how elections are ran." It was an important year for the seniors who are taking government because of the famous 2008 presidential election. The seniors learned about the election process, the candidates, and some lucky seniors were even able to vote.

The juniors were busy learning about United States and Virginia History. Junior Michael Mowery says, "I liked learning about the wars and what caused them." They also learned about the presidents and how our country gained its independence. The sophomores are taking either World Geography or AP European History. In World Geography they learn about different countries and cultures. The freshmen are taking World History where they learn about the countries histories. Its a very good introduction.

There have been two new additions added to the History Department this year: Sociology and Psychology. Students in these classes learn about how the human brain works and why humans interact with each other the way that they do. Senior Kayla Campbell said, "I love discussing the current news in Sociology." Other history classes include 20th Century American History and many of the courses are also offered in AP. No matter what history you take it is all interesting.

The Battlefield Robotics team designs, builds, tests, and competes using robots made to perform a specific assigned task. Team 1885 works hard with their mentors Mrs. Drake and Mr. Picconi to build for the F.I.R.S.T. competition. The team is divided into three smaller teams: the build team, the chairmen's team, and the programming team. The build team is in charge of wiring, building, and generally arranging the components of the robot. They use what they learn as electrical engineers to apply themselves in courses involving mechanical engineering. Prototype in CAD is a design tool used for 3D modeling in order to ensure that the proposed design will fit the size constraints. The chairmen's team treats Robotics as a business. Everything that they do is focused around managing resources, both physical and non-tangible, managing mentorships, talking with sponsors, and promoting F.I.R.S.T. Robotics in the community. The programming team is in charge of writing the code to make the robot function. They solve problems with computer systems, software, hardware, and general electronics. They also learn the necessity of advanced coding in the business and industrial world.

IT and Robotics

The build team has a mess of wires to run, trace and organize.

The proto-type is built to assure everything is in working order.

Team 1885 shows their spirit.

JOURNALISM

15,000—to many students in local schools this means nothing, but to Battlefield High School students it is known as the title of the school's magazine. Mr. Cook's Journalism 1 students contribute most of the articles that are put in the magazine. Journalism 2 and 3 edit and organize these articles so that they look presentable to publish. The magazine covers an assortment of topics, which range from sports to fashion to controversial opposing viewpoints. Writers attend school events such as homecoming, sports games, pep rallies, and other activities to cover their stories with precise information. Not all pieces students wrote made it to print. Many articles were used to help Mr. Cook determine what areas the students were best at writing. The magazine is also an advice column written by a student in the class. This advice column helps students with their everyday problems such as relationship issues and school. Overall the school's magazine is a source for students to find information about events that are occurring at Battlefield.

Right: Sophomore Tori Metcalf says, "It's really cool, how we get to inform the students about stuff happening in the school through the magazine."

Above: These fashion students put their effort into several different projects. Mrs. Smith is very lenient with how they may be presented to allow the creative juices to flow. Projects can range from creating picture books, posters, purses, hats, and go all the way to producing your own fashion show. Fashion students are not short on artistic ability as they depict famous designers and high fashion apparel.

Above: Mrs. Smith lectures on the importance of having "fun, fun, fun," while producing the fashion show. Fashion students came up with a theme of "Game Over". It will be based on different board games and will without a doubt be executed close to perfection. These students rely on their creativity and interest in fashion to drive their willingness to do well in the class. Mrs. Smith's students will cover a curriculum covering the four components of fashion to better their understanding of fashion as it evolves.

MARKETING & BUSINESS, FASHION, AND SPORTS

Fashion students take interest in accessories, design, apparel, and a unique presentation of all of these.

There is no need to fall asleep in marketing classes. The material and teachers are simply too interesting.

Girls are not the only people in fashion marketing. Guys enjoy the class equally, just as girls enjoy sports marketing.

Both fashion and sports marketing are offered as courses at Battlefield High School. These classes' primary focus and objective is to enlighten students about the buying and selling of merchandise. Mrs. Smith teaches both Fashion and Advanced Fashion. Mr. Larson takes a more manly approach with his position as the sports marketing teacher.

The fashion classes are a creative outlet for apparel inspired students. Mrs. Smith loves to assign projects and organizes the fashion show in the spring. This presentation is ran by the fashion students with their roles as directors and models.

Mr. Larson's classes explore the amazing world of sports marketing. The goal of the class is to give students a basic understanding of a job in the athletic world, whether it be about ticket sales, merchandise, advertising or promotions. Mr. Larson has fun teaching the class and his students enjoy learning it just as much.

Math

As most people know, math is one of the most important subjects in school. No matter what you do or where you go math is all around us. When you wake up in the morning you use math to figure out how much time you have to get ready for school and so on. If you don't know how to count correctly, people will take advantage of you.

Here at Battlefield, our math classes range from Algebra 1 part one to B.C. Calculus. However, the majority of seniors only go up to Algebra 2 or Advanced Math.

Although math can be frustrating at times students still know that this is an essential class for knowing how to figure out interest on payments or loans that they will shortly need to take out for college, cars, or even their own apartment.

Our math teachers at Battlefield are well qualified to teach and assist students in any way they can. Some volunteers stay after school to help kids who are falling behind or need help with a certain section.

This year at the Winter Formal the Orchestra was prepared and eager to play in front of the entire school. Overall the performance was spectacular and a real masterpiece. Ms. Thiele really made the students work hard and in the end it all paid off. In all the years that the Ensemble has played before winter break this year was by far one of the best years they have played. The sounds of the instruments all came together and flowed extremely well.

Below & Right: The highest level ensemble in the school with Mrs. Thiele.

Ms. Thiele

Ms. Katy Thiele has been teaching orchestra for "many years. Mozart and I were in the same class." She goes on to say how great of a turnout we had this year. "At the bridal show, brides even choose us to play on their big day."

ORCHESTRA

Mrs. Katy Thiele, the director of the Battlefield Orchestra has done a great job of teaching the students the proper way an orchestra works. The Battlefield Orchestra consists of four levels of ensembles: Concert Orchestra, Advanced Orchestra, Chamber Orchestra, and Intermediate Orchestra. The ensemble, made up of violins, violas, cellos, and the bass, is a very diverse group of instruments that together make a wonderful sound. Having no frets to help them decide where their fingers go, the players must accurately maneuver their fingers in order to sound somewhat decent, but instructor Mrs. Katy Thiele has done a magnificent job of teaching her students exactly how to master their instruments. This year the orchestra played a multitude of concerts and each was superb in its own unique way, especially the songs that they played during the Winter Festival. Other accomplishments this year include the excellent ratings at festivals, and winning yet another district competition. The Ensemble has had a legacy at Battlefield for doing exceptionally well at all the competitions and always dominating the stage. The concerts are always a treat to listen to as the songs are always practiced until the entirety of the group knows their part flawlessly and to perfection. The performance has always been to the best quality. Recently, our Orchestra has been winning every competition that they have been a part of, including district competition, Fall Festival, and Winter Festival.

PHOTOGRAPHY

Photography isn't just a class where you take pictures of objects. It is where you capture the unique and creative products of life. This class shows another creative way to express one's views on life. Senior Fernando Suriel says, "I feel it is a fun class and enjoyed learned about shadowgrams and about pin-hole cameras." The specific angles and color of a picture create the mood of the image. The shading can give it an illusion of either shape or color effect. Students enjoy this class because it lets them extend past the horizon of pictures. They can turn any average image into a more breath taking view. Junior Cassie Andoh-Tawiah says, "Developing pictures is the most interesting thing because you have to plan out your time and everything in a picture has to be even."

Science

From test tubes to CMS tests, Science is a hands-on and interactive class that can help students understand the world around them.

Science is a core class at Battlefield High School. The science classes that are available include Earth Science, Biology, and Chemistry. There are also more detailed and specific courses, like Oceanography, Astronomy, and Physics/Active Physics. Every science room has a lab area where students can learn in a more hands-on environment by doing fun experiments. Conducting labs and experiments gives students the chance to learn by observing first-hand rather than reading out of a text book and completing boring worksheets. Some of the science teachers at Battlefield sponsor the Environmental Club, because some sciences, such as Biology and Earth Science, have a lot to do with the environment and can learn a lot about science by studying it.

Mrs. Renberg said that she has her students do labs because "Chemistry is a lab-based course, and many kids learn kinesthetically, and most importantly, it's fun!" Mrs. Renberg's love of science and teaching makes it a much easier and fun learning environment for the students. Her enthusiasm rubs off on the kids and they all work very hard. The science teachers at Battlefield believe in making their students want to learn, because science can be a very fun and interesting course if you look beyond the surface. The more labs the teachers allow, the more fun the students have, and the more they learn, means a better chance to see Science happen right before their very eyes.

Right: Students work on an experimental lab in Chemistry and record their data. They wear safety goggles to ensure full protection of their eyes. They also wear aprons in case of a spill.

Yearbook 4th & 5th Period

These classes are what made this book. This year was Ryne Adkins's first year being the editor, and has lived up to that title. The Lynx Staff has put together another wondrous book. With the editor in chief Ryne Adkins, senior editors Sammie Jo Houser, Gretchen Schumaker, Devin Starrs, Britni Coleman, and junior editors Hannah Yelinek and Carly Glenn, this is one of the best books this school has seen.

This book has documented all of the good, bad, and the ugly of the 2008-2009 school years. These memories are forever imprinted. This class is designed not only as a class but a business. The staff is responsible for producing and selling the product. Mr. Fitzgerald, the yearbook teacher said, "I am very proud of these two classes. I was hesitant about having two periods of yearbook, but it has worked out in the end. I couldn't ask for a better set of classes." He has been the teacher for this class for the last three years, and he keeps on improving on his techniques.

Left: Junior Ryne Adkins, Editor in Chief.

"I'm glad I was chosen to be the editor this year. I think we all pulled together and made a great yearbook."

CLUBS

BATTLE FOR ACCEPTANCE

We all want to be accepted. It has always been that way, and it will always remain that way. Clubs are one way for us to achieve this goal. There are plenty of clubs for plenty of people at Battlefield. From Band to Fashion Marketing, there's a club for everyone. Some clubs are small, with meetings that are just intended to get people of a common interest together. Other clubs travel to competitions, sending competitors to national levels. And some clubs are just there to help, to make the world a better place by doing simple things. Regardless of what one is looking for, one can find a club to suit their needs in the halls of BHS. As we continually struggle for acceptance, we need to remember that there are plenty of people just like us who are doing the exact same thing, which makes the burden slightly easier to bear.

LIFE THROUGH A LENS

Above: Cameras like the one above are used to take all the students pictures.

"I like developing my pictures and seeing the final product," says Secretary Lindsay Bottos.

"Photography allows me to express myself in a creative way and discover really interesting things." Ellen McDonald.

Bowling Club

Every Wednesday night, at Bowl America in Manassas, the Battlefield Bobcats Bowling League competes for excellence. Each group consists of three individuals who, for that one night, are a representative team of the Bobcats. They compete against each other and other teams for 15 weeks until the best teams are chosen, based on their scores, to compete in the bowling "play-offs". Senior Michael Chapman, bowler #2, said what he enjoys most about bowling is that, "It's a good way to relax and take a nice break from school during the week." Senior Christopher Lutz, bowler #1, said that bowling is a "fun way to hangout with my friends outside of the school environment." Senior Andrew Teschke, bowler #3, said that bowling "has helped me meet new friends and an amazing woman I call Grandma." This woman that they call "Grandma" is the bowling alley's supervisor and has given these boys great advice and support in their bowling techniques. The team consists of seniors Michael Donovan, Josh Chappell, Mike Chapman, Andrew Teschke, and Chris Lutz.

The boys work together to produce this school's bowling team and enjoy every minute of it. They are working hard to get as far as they can in their competitions and possibly make it to the "play-offs". This team is also a fun way to not have to worry about school "cliques" and just worry about being good friends with one another. Because each of them goes bowling on Wednesday night, they have all improved their own bowling skills and become great bowlers.

GUITAR CLUB

To the right, Mr. Dittmer talks to the student about an upcoming event. Mr. Dittmer joined the club to further his skills in the guitar and to learn new songs. He says, "We get together to teach each other songs, methods and the basics of guitar playing."

Below are students Blake Cerretani, Kevin Engle and Justin Halbrook playing a duet of their favorite songs. The club has a very welcoming feel to it and the students said that players of any level are welcome and encouraged to come to a meeting.

Guitar Club is a place where students who love to play guitar, love the sound of it or want to start playing can come and hang out with other students who have the same interest. Mr. Dittmer and Mr. Miller run the show and both have a desire to master the guitar. All of the students enjoy the time they have to play with each other. "Every time you go to the club you learn a new song," says co-leader Mr. Dittmer. Mr. Dittmer is in his second year of sponsoring the Guitar Club. Since the club was founded last year it has been one of the best times you can have as a student. The Guitar Club meets every Tuesday after school from 2 till 4ish, some jam sessions can extend the 2 hours but the students love it since it's just a way to express themselves. If you walk by room 1135 on a Tuesday after school you will hear some really good musicians jamming out on their acoustic guitars. In the club you get kids from every class and every background. Some people like southern rock, some prefer classic rock or jazz, and you also have a few metalheads. Most of the students are also in a band that you can hear at Battle of the Bands in the spring. They are all extremely talented and work hard to improve their skills so they can rock as hard as Axel and Slash.

Above is Kevin Engle, learning a new song and trying it out for the first time. Below is Justin Holbrook with his guitar just rocking out to whatever tune his fingers decide to play.

Pictured to the left is Blake Cerretani who enjoys coming to Guitar Club to share his knowledge of the instrument with fellow artists. Like the other members of the club he is a very good guitarist who loves to just sit, play, and make new tunes.

The Debate Team and Forensics is a mind setting opportunity for every body to join and experience. Senior Chantal Ansah says, "The Debate team is great. It's very interesting, actually. I was worried at first because I'm not a super-political person or whatever, but it's not like that at all. Our team is made up of the most ordinary people you'll find and some people you'd never think to be in it. It's fun."

Debate Team and Forensics

Debate is often regarded as competitive speaking where the better prepared and better practiced team prevails. In debate, debaters learn skills in speaking, logic, research and composition that make them better students and ultimately better people. Here at Battlefield debaters develop a thirst for knowledge and skills to satisfy that thirst. As they do their work debaters become more confident and self assured. The Battlefield Debate team runs in three different events: Lincoln Douglas Debate, Student Congress and Public Forum. The Lincoln Douglas Debate is one-on-one debate and is primarily focused on competing values. Student Congress also known as the Legislative Debate replicates the proceedings of the United States Congress. Last but not least, Public Forum Debate is two-on-two team debate, primarily focused on speaking and persuasive ability.

DECA

DECA is an international association of students and teachers of marketing, management and entrepreneurship in business, finance, hospitality, and marketing sales and service. Ms. Smith and Mrs. Homan have organized this club to show off how Battlefield can help out the community. DECA focuses on helping out the community by doing projects and promotions to earn money to help out people less fortunate. DECA's Turkey Teacher contest was held in November to raise money for Breast Cancer Awareness. After DECA was finished with the Turkey Teacher Contest they had earned over 700 dollars to give to Breast Cancer. Raising money and helping out the community may be one thing that DECA does but they also compete in the DLC or the District Leadership Conference. The DLC is held once a year for all DECA chapters, you then go to a neutral location and compete in role plays in a variety of categories such as retail and apparel and accessories. You are then judged with an overall school that is combined with your two role-plays and a general marketing test. January 8th was this years DLC date, Battlefield was very successful and took home 8 overall first place awards out of 11 categories. For the entire competition, BHS DECA students took home 53 certificates out of 123. At Districts the Battlefield DECA students competed against 6 other schools so all the places were well earned.

The Drama club is where students can play the role of someone else, and have no other worries around them. You can act like a different person, and no one can tell you different.

The Drama department has put on many great plays in the past, and has many more to come this year. The fall production of the musical FAME was a great hit. It showed how hard it is to get into a performing arts school, but they did it with dancing and singing all around the stage.

Drama Club

Recently the Bobcat Drama team put on a Winter production. "I saw it twice, and each time it was different, it was like I hadn't even seen it," said senior Malinda

Holohan. Each class had the same story line, but each person is such a different actor/actress that they create their own individual character.

Auditions for the upcoming spring play "Arsenic & Old Lace" have just taken place, and its bound to be a great performance.

Club

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) is a club where student athletes can gather and worship together. FCA consists of many different athletes and religions. Any athlete of any Christian religion is welcome to worship with FCA. The president of FCA is senior Laura Gass. It is sponsored by English teacher Mr. Lem. FCA is a student-run organization. The students are in charge of running all of the in-school and after-school activities including the Annual Cookie Bake-off, 4 Corners, Kickball, Leadership Camp, Laser Tag with (vs.) Forest Park, BBQ Cookout with Bull Run Middle, Coldstone Service Project, Open Gym Night (volleyball & basketball & free hot chocolate), Carabbas Banquet, Veggie Tales, Games, Praise & Worship with the Newsboys (although it was a CD, it was still them), funny commercials, inspirational skits, baseball's Coach Caudle and other guest speakers, Bible studies, deep thinking Q&A, See You at the Pole, weekly morning prayer (lots of answered prayers!), prayer/food/cheering for athletic teams, and after school snacks. FCA is a fun and enjoyable way to worship in school.

E.D.G.E. Club (Evaluate Declare Growth Encounter) is another religious group of Battlefield students who meet together to worship together every Thursday after school. E.D.G.E. Club provides a way to reach students with the Gospel, and helps connect them to a local church. It also builds faith, encourages prayer and accountability, and develops unity among believers, while at the same time helping them to resist negative peer pressure and to make right decisions. The president of E.D.G.E. Club is junior, Chloe Wead. Member sophomore, Kate McCarthy says, "E.D.G.E. Club helps me take my religion seriously and connect with God, while with my friends."

ENVIRONMENTAL CLUB

GOING GREEN EVERY THURSDAY

The Environmental Club is bringing great contributions to Battlefield High School. They convey their enthusiasm of helping our local and global environment by starting a recycling movement at our school, making plans to landscape the bare courtyard, creating a day for the entire Haymarket community, and to shred literally tons of paper; these are only few of the many other ways the club helps the local community.

Our school was used to being wasteful by simply tossing paper in the regular trash bin, but now the BHS student body has grown accustomed to helping the planet by recycling. Each classroom is given a box that is decorated by the Environmental Club to recycle their paper. The students and teachers cooperate tremendously with the club's recycling movement by having their box ready every Thursday when the club members come to collect the recycled paper. Once all the recycled paper from all the classrooms and offices have been collected into the blue plastic bins, the club members take the bins to the dumpsters behind school. This is not a glamorous job, but the Environmental Club members enjoy every second of helping the school recycle because for Battlefield High School recycling paper is one step towards a healthier world for everyone to live in.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA

Our Future Leaders

Future Business leaders of America is a club that helps to shape the business savvy and economically intelligent minds of the students at Battlefield. This year FBLA held the Second Annual Tricycle Race in effort to raise funds for Project ASK. They raised over $350 which directly contributed to this fantastic organization. Mr. Evers won the tricycle race, by beating out the fierce competition of Mr. Piccione and Sergeant Woodiel. For their fall fundraiser, FBLA managed to collect over 1,600 items through Operation Turkey. This program provides food for 1,400 needy families during Thanksgiving. Aside from doing good deeds, members of FBLA compete in several different levels of business competitions year round. They always manage to stamp out the competition with their skills and talent.

Hip Hop and Step Club

The hip hop team is not only fun, its also hard work and takes talent. People may think its all about booty popping, but it takes skill and rhythm. Hip hop is all about team work and effort. They strive to do their best at wowing the crowd.

The team meets in Mrs. Torrero's classroom every Tuesday to perfect their routine. Their practices show when they perform because they're always on point.

The members of the team say, "It's a lot of hard work but it pays off in the end because we get to do what we love."

Hip Hop is totally different from any other type of dancing. Along with step team and dance team, Hip Hop also does fundraisers to earn money for the outfits they wear.

Interact and International Club

From gaining leadership skills and experience at the local Rotary Club to raising money to construct schools in Kenya, the students that participate in the Interact Club attain self satisfaction by helping numerous people. Their selfless service benefits varieties of people and their enthusiasm for helping others shines brightly. The genuine actions they perform are a great way of inspiring others to volunteer for organizations that benefit others. The International Club recognizes and celebrates all of the cultures represented at Battlefield High School. Participating students organize cultural awareness activities as well as service activities that aid the Battlefield, Haymarket, Manassas, and Gainesville communities.

KEY CLUB

Key Club is a club that was developed for the community service of local towns, shelters, and for the benefit of high school students. This is a club designed specifically for kids who like to give back or lend a helping hand. This year Battlefield's Key Club was very successful in helping the community with their frequent volunteer work. They participated in many fairs and festivals and they volunteered at elderly homes, animal shelters and homeless shelters. In addition to this, Key Clubbers also participated in the annual Light the Night Walk in honor of those suffering from Leukemia and Lymphoma. In addition, they did fundraisers such as Care Kids, Merry Messengers, UNICEF, and various other activities throughout the year. Key Club is dedicated to helping our community and those less fortunate.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is an excellent club to have in high school. To be a member in the National Honor Society one must have an outstanding G.P.A. That means great grades are an essential. You also have to be involved in many different clubs and sports. This group helps with scholarships and leadership skills.

Being a member of the National Honor Society is by invitation only. The students selected for this club are hand selected by the sponsors Mrs. Francis and Mrs. Yount. They look for students that are driven to strive in every area of their high school life. President Kenneth Lim is elected by all the NHS members. His job is to organize everything and anything that NHS participates in. The NHS does a tutoring program after school on Tuesdays and Thursdays for students who need help. The NHS members are well qualified for such jobs by having some of the highest G.P.A.s in the entire school. Most of the NHS tutors are juniors and seniors.

French National Honor Society

The French Honor Society is composed of students nationwide who have achieved high standards in French and in the rest of their classes. As a member of the society, students must maintain outstanding grades in their French classes. While upholding their grades, students earn points from attending meeting, participating in activities, and tutoring French students. Members can also be found giving back to the school and the community.

This year they participated in Care Kids by gathering presents for two schooled aged children who were in need during the holiday season. At the end of the year the students have the opportunity to travel to Europe.

A lot of students find the honor society a fun and educational club that enhances their well-being. Colleges especially like to see applicants who are a part of something that upholds great standards such as a National Honor Societies.

Here at Battlefield, other students find the National French Honor Society helpful because they provide services that cater to their needs. Without the society, students would have fewer resources for when they need help with a test, quiz or just wanting to learn new material. If members are not outside cleaning up the court yard or in the library tutoring students you might find them at a fancy French restuarant dining the afternoon away.

National Latin Honor Society

Carpe Diem Seize The Day

This society is made up of the Latin students that have the grades and the heart to further their Latin studies. The prerequisites for this class include having a school GPA of 3.0 and a Latin GPA of 3.7, be a third year Latin student, and be an active member of The Junior Classical League. During the meetings, which met in Villa # 1, your activities might include Shoeboxes For Soldiers or helping younger Latin students with their work. The Shoeboxes For Soldiers is one of their most popular activities. The students provide things that they want to send to the soldiers over seas and package them in shoe boxes. This helps out the soldiers during the long tour and all the holidays that they are away from their families. The club is led by the always wonderful Magistra Yount, who has been the club leader since the beginning. When in this club or any other Latin, you can take the Nation Latin Exam, to see where you stand compared to other Latin students around the nation.

Latin helps with you in all of your classes. It will help you with SAT vocabulary. Many words in the English language are derived from Latin words. Also, most of our holidays are based off of Ancient Rome holidays. The National Latin Honor Society has been around since 2005, the first year Battlefield was open.

Science National Honor Society

The objective of Battlefield's Science National Honor Society is to provide a foundation of scientific learning for up and coming generations. This new generation of scientifically-minded people is what's necessary to run our high-tech society. The SNHS does this by helping elementary and middle school students better understand scientific c concepts through hands-on activities and demonstrations.

One benefit of being in the SNHS is the wealth of scientific knowledge gained by membership. The members are also eligible for special college scholarships, allowing their studies in the fields of science to continue into college and beyond.

National Spanish Honor Society

From the depths of Spain to the shores of Mexico, the National Spanish Honor Society has learned all about the cultures and the language of romance. These students are dedicated to exploring the world by learning about Spanish, the language of love. The club offers help to teachers in need. The students go to the teachers and help them with little task they need to complete so that the teachers can get their job done. Offering help to student that are in need in foreign languages is another role of the participants in National Spanish Honor Society. Spanish is not just a class where you can learn how to learn a language other then your own . It will also help you in your life after college by helping you to communicate with your Hispanic coworkers. As the famous quote by an unknown author states ""El que habla dos lenguas vale por dos." a person who speaks two languages is worth two.

Peer Diversity

The Peer Diversity Group at Battlefield is a branch of the World of Difference Institute—a program established and run by the Anti-Defamation League. discuss their differences and promote diversity among students. Peer Diversity is run by Mr. Dittmer and Mr. Foreman. Peer Diversity helps promote National Awareness Months such as awareness of religion and different cultures. They also support the Safe Harbor meetings that promote an open, safe, discrimination-free forum providing all students with a place to be accepted and to learn about lifestyles, beliefs, and backgrounds of all kinds. Peer Diversity helps to provide a safe and comfortable environment for all Battlefield students.

SCA

Student Council started the year off with a bang by organizing the Homecoming game and dance. The theme, voted on by the Leadership class from the year before, was Blast from the Past. During the first few weeks of the 2008-09 school year, delegates and officers were busy preparing for the festivities. Postermaking, dance order forms, decorations, and the pep rally all had to be organized. All their efforts were rewarded as spirit week, the pep rally, and the dance were all a success. With the pandemonium at rest, Student Council then turned its eyes to giving back to their school and community. Junior Class President Carly Glenn was in charge of a community service project which consisted of visiting SERVE and donating volunteer help at their facilities. Junior, Max Whitticar, SCA Treasurer, contacted other surrounding schools to invite them to join the Virginia Student Council Association. That included middle schools like Bull Run and elementary such as J.W. Alvey. Senior Class President organized a competition between Battlefield and its rival Stonewall Jackson in order to raise money for our school. All of these efforts are steps toward receiving the VSCA Achievement Award at the state conference in the spring. Battlefield High School won the award last year and will without a doubt succeed in doing so again thanks to their hardwork and Mr. Schelzo's guidance.

SPORTS

THE BATTLE FIELD

For some of us, sports are one the ways that we express ourselves. They give us a chance to show pride in our school by fighting hard against our rivals. Whether it's the sound of a ball hitting a bat, pads hitting pads, or of a foot crashing against a ball, all sports carry a resounding note throughout the student body. Even for those who aren't involved in sports, they are proud of the athletes that represent them. We will always remember the Friday night lights. We will always remember the close calls and the shut outs. And we will always remember our friends who fought hard against the odds and against themselves. Athletes give hope to themselves, as well as any who watch them shine. We all know them, we love them, and we wish them all the best. Maybe one day we'll all look back and remember the battles on these fields.

Our Freshmen and J.V. Cheerleaders

Freshmen and Junior Varsity Cheerleading is a very important part of many sports. They cheer on many teams including JV/Freshman Football, Basketball, Lacrosse, Volleyball, and Field Hockey. Cheerleaders encourage the teams to do well. Being competitive is essential to cheering. Some people think cheering is just going to the games dressing up and prancing around. In reality, it takes a lot of work. Practices not ending until after 7:00, going to all the games, school work, and of course, boys. Juggling all of that is incredible and our cheerleaders do it all the time. From late August until the end of February they work just as hard as any other sport, if not harder. It's 32 degrees outside? It does not matter, they just bundle up and continue on. "Cheerleading is not a sport." That's a phrase used on many unfortunate occasions. Cheering is a sport just as basketball is a sport. They practice, go to competitions, have fundraisers, and support each other. Next time you tell someone it's not a sport think about all the work that goes into being a cheerleader.

Varsity Cheerleading: Pumping Up the Crowd

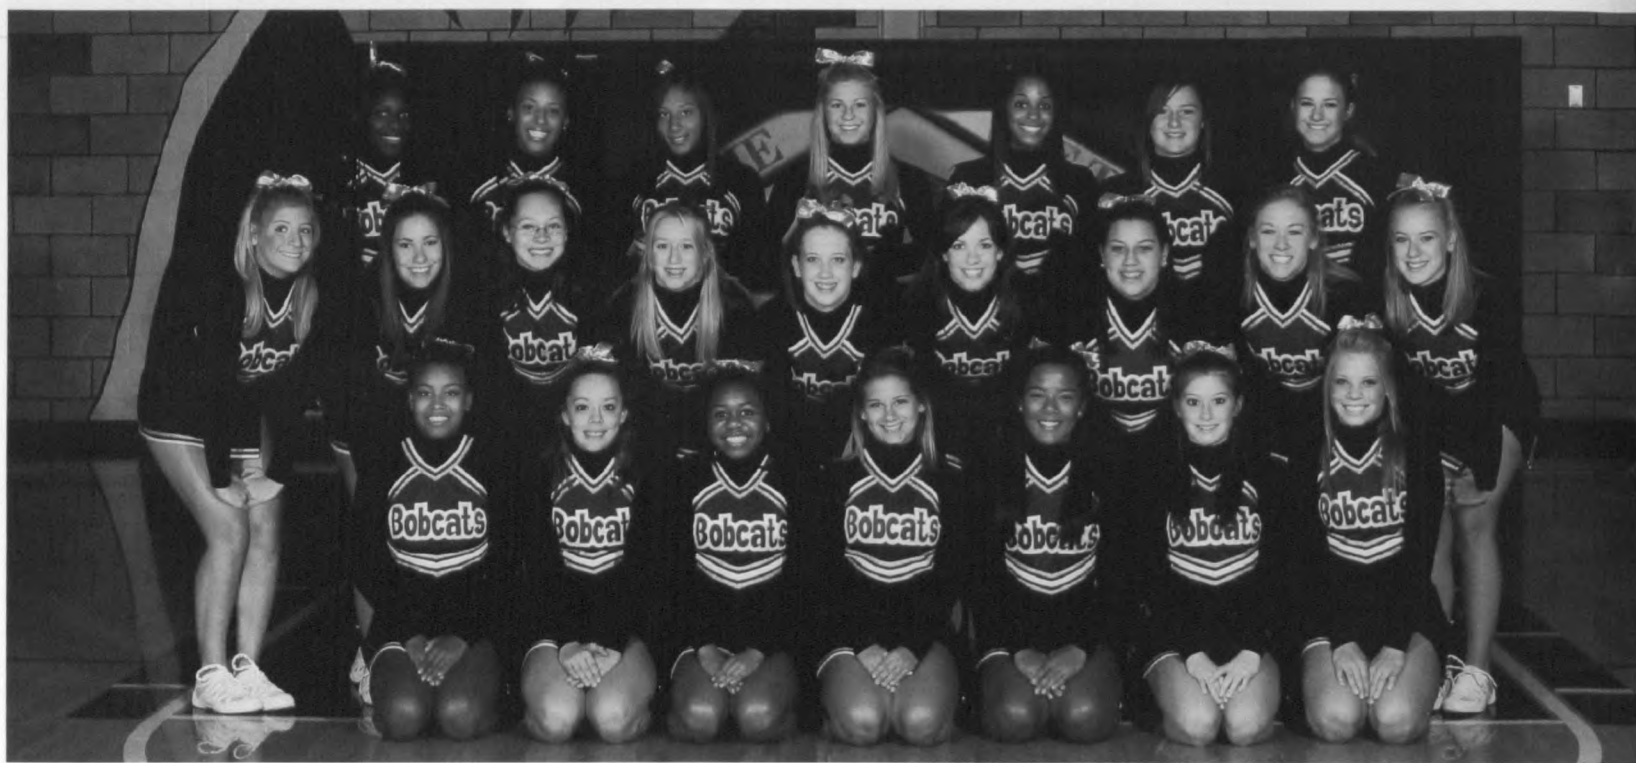

The cheerleading season is one of the longest sports seasons at Battlefield. Bobcat cheerleaders are about more than just makeup and hair. Their season starts early, with tryouts at the end of the last school year, and doesn't end until the end of basketball season. After tryouts, the girls have it easy until the summer. During the summer the girls go to a camp, to help them better perfect the skills that they already have. During the season the girls work hard at making their routine the best for competition, along with cheering for the Bobcat football team.

The Bobcat cheerleaders had a competition at Liberty High School, where they got a place to go to Regionals. Unfortunately the girls didn't make it further, but the season isn't over.

With basketball season right after football season, the girls have no time to rest. Although the girl's practices get cut shorter, the coaches still keep them working hard.

This season was tremendous; the runners are doing better than ever, divisionally and as a team. Numerous runners have qualified for regional and state's. Coach Mobley seemed to put forth his best effort into the team with practices, drills and it looks like it has paid off. Cross country 2008 has raised the expectation bar super high for all the years to come. Running is a passion for these students, they give it their all and work towards their goals weather short or long term.

JV Battlefield Field Hockey

JV Field Hockey, led by coach Mrs. Brever, faught hard this season to celebrate their great wins. JV Field Hockey is made up of talented girls from all years. They represent Battlefield by playing hard and clean during the game and always play to win. This group of girls are highly competative and work hard at practice in order to win every game. JV Field hockey gives the girls a great place to learn the basic fundamentals of the game. Helping the girls pick up techniques while playing. By next year these girls will be stepping up to varsity and mentor the new group of girls that will be on JV Field Hockey.

You can feel the electricity from the girls who are always looking forward to playing. This season was a great triumph for the girls as they took down the best to prove their dominance in the district. Coach Brever did an excellent job at getting the girls into the game and being competitive. For some of the girls this is the first year that they have played Field Hockey at high school.

Varsity Field Hockey

With fall comes Field Hockey. With Field Hockey comes sweat, tears, and victory.

This Field Hockey Season was definitely Battlefield's best. The Lady Bobcats had a 13-3 season beating the records of previous years. Jessica Byrd this year stepped up as Varsity Head Coach for the first time. Assisting her was Laura O'Meara. The two built a team that was both cohesive and fierce. The Varsity Field Hockey team was considerably larger than before. They had a roster of 21 lady bobcats, enabling them to always have fresh feet on the field.

Senior Laura Gass says, "I couldn't be more proud to be on this team. This being my senior year, I really noticed how each of us pulled it together in a way we never have before." Laura could not have been more right. The Lady Bobcats showed incredible athleticism before and during the season. On the first day of try-outs, the potential players had to demonstrate their endurance with a three mile run first thing. Stick skills and drills followed the workout during the entire month of August. The coaches noticed the potential and greatness the girls displayed through each and every practice. Head Coach Jessica Byrd, during her pep talk to the girls before their first game said, "Your legacy begins today."

The chicks with sticks stepped it up to a new level, determined to live up to their full potential as players and as student athletes. The sweat, blood and tears the girls shed for their teammates, coach, and school seem like nothing, but their victorious season and respect for one another could not be a better representation.

Freshman Football

Freshmen football, the newcomers of the sport that bring pain and glory to people's name. To football players, getting scraped up and dirty is everyday life. Come see amateurs play their hardest in a non-stop heart pounding, Earth shattering event. They get to show their skill and power to see if they will tread on, defeat self doubt and weakness. Some say that freshmen football is only for slackers and lazy guys, well those accusations are wrong and ridiculous. The frailty to this age group is that they don't have the experience, the muscle mass, and weight to be exceptionally grand at the game. Freshmen come from middle school where football is usually more tame and less exciting.

Our Battlefield Bobcats Freshmen football team fights other schools from all over the county for the trophy, but it's not just a trophy they're going for, it's also the pride and the joy of the game. The freshmen football team can battle against any team and win. Stonewall Jackson, Hylton, Osbourne Park, Fauquier, any team. Whether they win by a field goal or a touchdown, they make it happen. They may come from different backgrounds, they still win and make it through. They may lose once in a while, but when they do, they do it with class and dignity. On the other hand, when they win, they don't shove it in their faces, they don't brag, they just tell it to the world and tell them how it is. They just got beat by Battlefield High School.

JV Football

They may not get the most recognition, but the JV Football players still give their opponents a run for their money. Juniors, sophomores and even freshmen make up this team. They put class years aside and they work together like a well oiled machine. The teamwork paid off for them, with the JV Football team winning all but one of their games. JV quarterback, sophomore, Devon Greene said, "Our team had a good season and it's because we came together." He also had something to say to his fellow teammates "Keep your heads on straight and work hard for you goals." The JV Football team ended the year with a near perfect 6-1 record.

Bobcat Football: Two very important words heard throughout the school week. Friday nights couldn't come soon enough for the players of the Varsity Football team. The team was on top this year and was expected to have a very successful season from the beginning. The coaches and players always showed positive school spirit to prove to the fans and the opponents what a real winning team is made of. With the combination of great teamwork and constructive coaching this team was aiming high. Their hardwork and practice really paid off. With the young talent and experienced players, the team really made this year one to remember. This loyal team never forgot to put on a show for their fans. Every game was an eventful one, with surprises along the way. From last minute touchdowns to early-on leads, the team kept their fans and opponents on their toes.

The Bobcats went undefeated in their regular season, which is something never before seen in Bobcat country. The bar is set pretty high for next year's team, however we hope to carry on the undefeated tradition.

Many find golf courses to be the ultimate balance between man and land. They are, hands down, the most visually appealing playing court in the world of sports. Perfectly cut grass rolling over gorgeous hills all the while blending with shimmering ponds is enough to make some people stop in their tracks and get lost in the breathtaking view. Perfectly packaged with this imagery, is the feeling one gets when they sink that hole-in-one. Golf is just one of many sports that gives Battlefield students the ability to create, set, and accomplish their own goals, but there is no other sport quite like golf. Golfers, unlike members of team sports, focus on an individual goal whilst facing head to head against the strongest offense of them all: nature. With loads of hard work and endless amounts of effort, freshman Marisa Riley and sophomore Tara Buchanan qualified for Girl's States this year. "The hardest thing about the game is being able to hit the ball out of the sand trap," says Tara while Marisa says that the "easy-to-lose concentration" is. Sophomore Blair Claflin agrees, saying "Concentration of aiming, keeping your head in the game, and focussing on your golf swing is mentally draining." The boys team also did excellent this year. They dominated at Regionals, beating Woodbridge by nearly 100 strokes. At Regionals, the total score after 18 holes was 74. At Districts Sophomore Andrew Lister shot 72 and Senior Jordan Pastor shot 75. Both the boys and girls golf teams did a fantastic job this year. They proved that no land can over come man.

Leave it on the field. This infamous battle cry has created the evident perseverance that drives this group of students to achieve greatness. Turn your attention to the crescendo; turn your attention to the Battlefield Marching Band. If you are a resident of Dominion Valley, a participant of a sports team practicing on a nearby field, or in a 3 mile radius of the drivers ed lot, you have heard the marching bobcats perform.

This year, these bobcats proudly brought home 5 grand champion awards from the Hylton, Hermitage, Charlottesville, and Lee Davis Competitions. A superior rating, was also awarded to the students at VBODA, held at our very own Battlefield High School. This year, the marching bobcats reenacted their own rendition of the classic West Side Story. The street fight between opposing groups of the color guard, repetitive snapping of band members, and the crowd pleasing baton on fire gave the show a glimpse of the Sharks vs. Jets attitude.

The J.V. girls volleyball team played competitively to show their hard work and dedication. The girls had goals that they wanted to aim for and they proved themselves throughout the season. J.V.'s Jasmine Mann, sophomore, was named to the All-Tournament Team. The J.V. volleyball team ended the season with a winning record of 11-9. Sophomore Bailey Liddle said "The greatest part of volleyball was playing with all of my friends." Sophomore Erika McLaughlin said "I love how intense the games can get."

J.V. was not the only successful team on the court. Many challenges arose the Freshmen team like inexperienced and new players, but they ended up bonding together well. Freshmen Julie Leavitt and Shannon Black were named to the All-Tournament Team. Freshmen volleyball also ended with a winning record of 9-8. The girls are well prepared for their eventual playing on varsity.

This season the Varsity Volleyball team achieved the most district wins in Battlefield Volleyball history. Their biggest achievement was beating Fauquier High School for the first time. Another achievement the girls had was taking Loudon Valley to five games two out of the three times they played each other.

The Varsity Volleyball team consisted of seven senior and seven junior players. Captains of the team included seniors Virginia Hyer and Lesley Chambers and junior Mikaela Whitaker. The captains and supporting cast helped lead the team to a winning 10-8 regular season record.

Senior Virginia Hyer said, "This season our team became a family, and that is why we became one of the teams to beat in our district." Another senior Jessica Jacobson commented that "There was so much talent on the team this year; everyone brought something different to the table which helped us come far as a team."

With the team losing seven seniors this year it will be interesting to see how the upcoming seniors help to fuel the Varsity Volleyball team to another winning season and hopefully another record breaking one at that.

Boys's Fresh/JV Basketball

The 2008-2009 Freshman and JV teams this year are doing extremely well. They are keeping up their record and having no mercy while playing others schools. Coaches Thompson and Fair are extremely proud of the boys' hard work and commitment. The boy's record has been as high if not higher than years before. The boys have been working hard to keep the school's great reputation for sports, and the hard work is paying off. The JV team and freshman teams both finished the season on a very good note leave their season with more wins then losses. JV player Ryan Dandrea said even though they could have played better he is pleased with the outcome of the season. Along with team strides there were also personal gains. Ryan Dandrea had an amazing game one day as he dunked for his first time in a game. In the previous year the JV basketball players have gone on to start on the varsity level. This is a goal of many of the boys on JV basketball. Sophomore Troy Allare says, "I can't wait to be able to play on varsity for school." This year has been a great experience for the freshmen and junior varsity players. They may be able to work on their skills so they can have a great career. A lot of battlefield students and staff are looking forward to seeing their follow players.

Senior Martyn Dawson waits for the opportunity to either pass or make a shot.

The Boy's Varsity basketball team started out their year with a 7-0 record. Continuing throughout the season the boys only had losses to Fauquier, Osbourn and Stonewall.

During the season the head coach Mr. Ford made sure that he rotated a variety of players to bring the ball down and up the court. Each player had a good amount of playing time.

One of the biggest games this season was something that Coach Ford put together. He contacted an Australian team, that was coming to America, to play a game and visit Battlefield High School. The Bobcats had a 79-42 victory of the Tuggeranong Vikings. This game had one of the biggest turn outs of the whole season.

Currently the boys are playing their district games. They beat the Liberty Eagles, which put them into the next round. They then beat Stonewall at Fauquier High School. They are now playing against Fauquier High School for the district final game. Battlefield had a great season. Although they lost in the final round, the Bobcat fans are still proud of their boys.

BASKETBALL FEVER

The Junior Varsity and Freshman team this year at Battlefield had a very successful season. Both teams were backed up and cheered on by peers, teachers, parents, and fans. Without the help of these important people, the teams would have had a harder season than they did.

Junior Melissa Aitken states, "This year on JV basketball was a tough season, but our basketball team pulled through and we tried our best. It was one of the best seasons that I have played so far." Both the Freshman and Junior Varsity teams have worked hard this season. Their hard work has paid off by the result of their wins. The juniors and sophomores who have played JV these past few years feel well prepared to take on playing a higher level of basketball in their future years at Battlefield. Also, the players on the Freshman Basketball team have become more advanced in their skill levels and feel that they can advance into higher levels of basketball at Battlefield.

Both the Freshman and JV Basketball Teams at Battlefield have had a successful season with many wins and few losses. Both teams feel confident and proud of their achievements this year and believe next year will be more successful. Junior Erin Rooney states, "Battlefield High School basketball is a great program in which I love to participate in and be a part of. It is a close knit family in which each player is a part of and each player gets to do exactly what they love, play basketball."

For example Lauren has the Flash t-shirt, because she made the most steals, Selina has the Wonder Woman t-shirt because she had the best all around stats, Caitlyn had the most blocks and she is wearing the Green Lantern t-shirt, Annie is wearing the Superman t-shirt, because she was the top rebounder, and Stephanie is wearing the Aquaman t-shirt because she made the most dives for the ball last game.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

"Respect yourself enough to always give your best effort in all that you do."

- Coach McCaslin

Bringing home the trophies, the Lady Bobcats have had a thrilling year. The girls have accomplished so much this year that they have traveled to Disney World in Orlando, FL. to participate in the Holiday Tournament. The Varsity Girls Basketball team has played against some of the best teams in the nation, improving their skills with each game. By the end of this school year the Lady Bobcats will have mastered their skills after challenging themselves against the best teams.

The girls are led by Coach McCaslin who has worked hard this year making the best come out of the girls. Coach McCaslin has his own philosophy of coaching that is based on his philosophy of life and centered on respect. This is a method that obviously works to the team's benefit. Thanks to Coach McCaslin, some of the girls will pursue their career playing basketball.

Dance Team

The Battlefield Dance team is an award winning team that entertains the crowd at football, basketball, and county competitions. The dance team won first in jazz, second in hip hop, third in kick and first in officer's routine. Senior Nikki Robinson won the title of Miss Prince William County Dance Champion.

Being a member of the BHS dance team is a commitment. As a team, they look forward to working together, learning together, growing together, and especially representing Battlefield High School as they dance together!

Every practice, the girls work together to perfect their dances so that they can dominate the competitions and pump up the crowd.

Gymnastics

Strength, skill, and elegance are three of the many qualities a gymnast for Battlefield High School must obtain. Their dedication and hard work is shown and proven at their long daily practices as well as their numerous competitions. Becoming a talented gymnast doesn't happen over night. It takes years to get the simplest of moves just right so that errors and mistakes don't show in a performance. Precision and concentration are possibly the most important key factors in a gymnast's routine. One slip up or loss of focus could cause them to land wrong which would result in their rank dropping in a competition. Being a gymnast is easier said than done.

INDOOR TRACK

This year's Bobcat track team worked hard during every race under the supervision of Mr. Mobley, Mr. Huddle, and Mr. Hannel. Each runner put 110% into each race they ran, each hurdle they jumped, each shot-put they threw, and more. The Battlefield Indoor Track team is more of a family and not just a team. They work together and support each other so that a successful season is the production of all their hard work.

Also the track team is one big team. The guys and girls work and practice together, and they help give each other pointers on what they can do better to help them get around the track more quickly. The Boys Track team has a legacy to live up to because in past years the Boys Track team has been rewarded first place in the Regional Track Meet. The Girls Track team has the pressure of trying to top the boys team to prove that they are just as good and can win their own Regional title.

The Battlefield Bobcats are notorious swimmers, and have been ever since the school opened. This will be the swim team's fifth year led by Coach Karri, with the help of Assistant Coach Cloninger. The team started this season like true Bobcats and beat Osborn in the first meet at WARF. Senior Connor Tye said, "The team this year is very strong compared to past years, and we are at the peak of victory this year." The team has practice Monday through Thursday from 7:30 to 8:30 PM; a late practice for a school team, but they show up even though it's late in the day. They have their swim meets every Friday, and they run from 7:00 to about 11:00 PM.

The reason for this is that they have 'double dual' meets that means it takes twice as long to get through. Freshman Caroline Shepard stated, "Double dual meets are very fun, and if the pool is crowded, it's a better way to meet other swimmers." The record for the team this year is 6-1. They celebrated their record this year with lots of yells and 'woot woots'. After the meet is done, some of our fellow Bobcats go to the local IHOP to celebrate with some pancakes. The Bobcats got Third place in Districts this year. Boys and Girls team worked very hard for the 08-09 season and did very well overall this swim year. Three....Two....One...BOBCATS.

Wrestling

The 2008-2009 wrestling team was the most successful team Battlefield High School has put on the mat. Led by Seniors Beau Martino at 112 lbs. and Peter Psihas at 215 lbs., the team had a 15-14 dual record. "I like to think Beau and I were good captains; actually I know we were good captains," stated Peter. The rest of the team was composed primarily of freshmen and sophomores other than junior Mat Bowman. The season got under way with the Gar-Field Duals where the team took 4th. The action continued with matches at Brentsville and Stonewall before hitting the road for an overnight trip in Paulsboro, NJ. The team had their second overnight trip in January when they traveled to Fredericksburg for a 32 team tournament. The team took 5th overall with Beau winning the tournament, Peter and Mat taking 2nd, Brooks Martino taking 3rd, and Tevin Cooke taking 7th. At Districts, the team took 3rd place. Beau, Mat, and Peter all took first, and Brooks, Emmitt Kelly, Billy Martin, and Tevin Cooke all took 2nd. The team took 8 wrestlers to regionals where once again Beau took 1st. Brooks took 2nd, and Mat and Peter both placed 3rd. Beau's wins at districts and regionals, made him a 4x district champ and a 3x regional champ. The four then traveled down to Chesapeake to wrestle in the state tournament. At the end of the two day tournament Beau became state champion for the second year in a row. "Its a great feeling, oh man, I love to be a champion," he commented after his state finals match, the last match of his high school career.

Above: Junior, Mat Bowman has his arm raised in victory against at the district duals. Bowman was undefeated in the district at 130 lbs.

JV BASEBALL

Below: JV coaches Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Larson, talk over their offensive plans.

America's past time. A game that transcended through America's history. It's been through world wars and great depressions. When a world is in chaos it's always nice to be able to kick back and just play a sport, well like baseball. Pitchers bombarding the batter with fierce throws as he tries to hit the ball. This takes major skill and hand eye coordination. For Battlefield, the coaches pick only the best in the school to be worthy of being a Bobcat. Whether you're in the outfield or on second base the team is more like a family.

Trust and sportsmanship is key for a great team. Whether Battlefield has that or not, we'll learn soon enough. Singles, doubles, triples, and home runs; Battlefield hits them all. This season the Bobcats JV team has worked hard and played hard. Each player puts their heart and soul on the line when they step up to the plate. This year's JV pitcher, JT Brosnahan, has helped carry the team with his great pitches. The Bobcats season has been very successful, the team works together to do their best to come out on top.

Baseball

Led by seniors Joey El-Bisi, Max Dove, and Chase Garris, the Bobcats will try to improve from last season. Last year they came within 1 run to advancing to the final 8 in the state. Coach Caudle has over 20 years of coaching experience and will be sure that they Bobcats stay on top of their game. With 8 seniors and 4 juniors the Bobcats have enough experience to make a run at the State title. Sophomore pitcher Nathaniel Abel hopes to provide good pitching to help the team win games. In order to win the State Championship the team will need good play from not only the seniors but also the underclassmen.

Senior Max Dove gets a hit against a Gar-Field High School pitcher. He helped the Bobcats win 11-1.

Junior Brandon McMahon takes a lead off first base.

JV MENS LACROSSE

Both teams rush to get a air born ball.

JV Men's Lacrosse is not just a game to most. It is rather a shot to get out on the field and make something of yourself. The drills, practices, and games are always intense for the players; whether it is before a game or during the week. They go out and do their best, even though the competition is fierce. They do what they need to win a game, not just for themselves, but for the team and school. Lacrosse is not an easy sport; some even call it the "death" sport.

There are not many restrictions to the players in this game, and it can really cause someone to get hurt if they are not careful. The men on the JV lacrosse team work just as hard if not harder then the Varsity team so that one day they can eventually play on the Varsity team. The JV lacrosse team did great this season. "Lacrosse rocks my socks" was stated by Freshman Tyler Lare. Not only do they work hard to win games but they also have a little bit of free time to just joke around and get all of the pressure off of them.

When I first went to a lacrosse game, I thought, "How can they play like that and not get penalized for it?"

"I give credit for a successful season to the seniors. " The seniors are the ones who developed the program to fight for the championship."

Coach Kevin Marsh

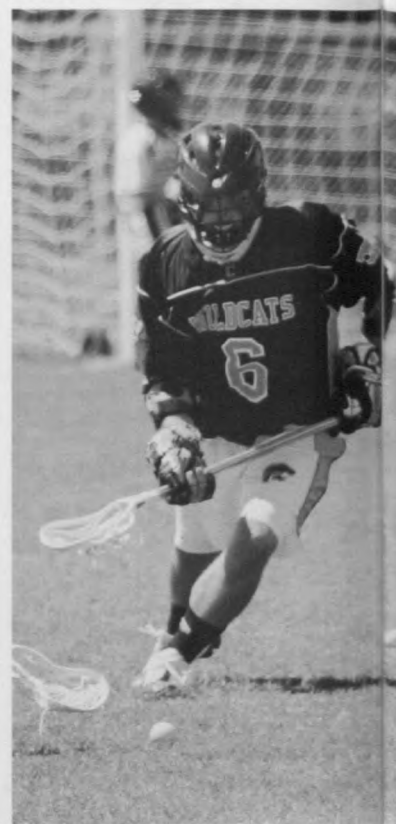

Britt Hoover

Britt's favorite quotation is "Put me in coach i can do it!!"

Lacrosse has come a long way since the days when it was played by the Native Americans. In modern times it's a game played by 9 people and a goal keeper, three defenders, three mid-fielders, and three offensive players. The goal of the game is to get the ball in the other teams net. To some it might sound easy, but its not. Lacrosse is a sport that takes aggression, competitiveness and desire. The Battlefield Men's Lacrosse team has all of those qualities. The Men's Lacrosse team has some players that will be graduating this year that have been playing on the team since they were freshmen. It will be hard for them to leave the team that they have been on for 4 years. Many of the players enjoy playing on the Lacrosse team because it provides a friendly environment for them to practice and play in. Mr. Marsh, a science teacher, has been the coach since Battlefield has opened its doors so he knows the ins and outs of the Lacrosse District and can help the team succeed. In previous years the lacrosse team has tried their hardest to earn a district championship title but always feel short. the team has a common quote that say it is "Aut viam inveniam aut faciam." This Quote means: I will either find a way or make on! This helps inspire the team to find a way to do the best they can.

The JV Women's Lacrosse team seems very promising this year. They won their first game against Fauquier 12-1. Starting off the season with a win helped the confidence of all the players.

The pre-season conditioning and practices every day has really played off because they have only lost one of their games so far. The team practices an hour and a half everyday and puts heart and soul into the workouts. The workouts consisted of running, drills, and scrimmages.

Coach Tran inspires the girls to do their best every day. The determination of the team really shows through when they are playing a game. Strength, speed, and focus helps the players do better during the game.

New players, along with returning player, made this year's team exciting and fun for everyone. There were many ups and downs this year, from the pep talks before the games to the celebrations afterwards.

Overall, the year has been a great one for the JV Girls Lacrosse team. The girls really came together to win this season.

The Battlefield Varsity Women's Lacrosse team started their season with the defeat of Freedom High School and continued to dominate the district. The girls are a hard working team with a lot of talent and good sportsmanship. The Battlefield Varsity Women's Lacrosse team captain, senior Ali Shumaker leads the team to victory time and time again. The team works together to gain skills that help to defeat their opponents and grow as a team.

"I love coming to practice not only to get better but to hang out with my friends as well," said Morgan Clark. The team enjoys bonding and using their friendship to create great team work that helps them achieve all their goals. The Battlefield Women's Varsity Lacrosse team is a great threat to their division and their district. All of the girls have a lot of talent and the team continues to show great improvement each and every year.

OUTDOOR TRACK

Despite the name, Outdoor Track isn't just about running. It also encompasses hurdles, the long and high jump, pole vaulting, and the shot put. This makes the track team the most varied team in terms of skills and abilities.

When the Outdoor Track season started in February, the members of the Track Team knew they needed to get into top shape before they could face their rivals from Stonewall and Osbourn, among others. They had to run the fastest, jump the highest, and throw the furthest. To achieve this, they had to practice every day after school, regardless of the conditions. "Without all the training we did, we wouldn't have been as successful as we were this season," says senior Matthew Shaughnessy. This hard work and constant training helped them achieve success during their meets against their competitors.

JV MENS SOCCER

"If you want to get anywhere, practice when no one is watching."

-Battlefield Men's Soccer Motto

This spring the Junior Varsity Men's Soccer team is coached by Steven Bretsch, along with Carlos Del Cid. With nine games at home, and seven games away, the Bobcats are aiming to win them all. The Bobcats started off the season with fierceness by winning their first game against Freedom High School 5-2. The Junior Varsity carries the spirit of the Bobcats. This season will determine the future Varsity soccer players at Battlefield. Their rough practices and eager determination brings glory to Battlefield High School.

ONE TEAM. ONE GOAL

The Boys Varsity team started out their spring season strong, with a 5-0 record after a big win against Osbourn. Since the beginning of April, the team was ranked the #2 team in Northern Virginia in the Washington Post. The team had a lot of potential to do very well during their season. The team consisted of four seniors who were the team leaders. Coach Pimsaen would like to tell his players: "Take responsibility for your actions; think about the consequences and how it will affect the people in your life."

J V W o m e n ' s S o c c e r

Soccer consists of amazing foot work, but more importantly a team to distribute the works into a winning game. This year Battlefield's JV Soccer team is under the instruction of Coach Brever. The team is made up of freshman, sophomores and juniors who give them a diverse team of individuals. The freshmen coming on the team can look up to the juniors for help and learn skills to those who have been against other high school teams. Soccer games consist of dribbling, passing, shooting, and hard work as a team to score around the defense. There are different positions that you can play like guard, goalie, wings and center. During practice they do all sorts of drills to enhance their skills and run to boost their agility. They have two mile runs to warm-up also in the beginning of practice. A part of practice they split the team up and have a scrimmage to practice a real game and to have fun. "Soccer is great becasue you can take all you frusetrations out on the field. Just think about all the bad things going on in your life and go kick butt!" said sophomore Hana Choi. Of course the winning team gets gloating rights but the girls know they are a better oiled machine when they all work together. The JV girls have Bobcat spirit and will destroy anyone in this year's soccer competition.

JV Softball

Freshman Samantha French winds up for the pitch.

The JV Softball team has had rocky starts in the past. This year they have been doing well. The Lady Bobcats coaches have been working them hard. The past years everyone has underestimated the Bobcats JV Softball team. This year they are proving people wrong. There is a great group of girls that tried out this year. A lot of talent is really visible in the players this year. The girls have a lot to live up to with the varsity girls record, but they are truly trying.

All of the girls were excited to start out the season. With a few minor setbacks due to the weather changes, the Lady Bobcats have had a good start so far. With their coaches pushing them to do their best.

The ladies have put a lot of hard work and effort into their practices, and it is really showing.

Freshman Michelle Hettman pitches for the Lady Bobcats. She has held the Bobcats down with only allowing a minimum of hits. The team has pulled together, and has only had one loss. This season has been the best for the girls. With a lot of new faces the girls are putting a new reputation for the Junior Varsity Battlefield Softball team.

Hoping that all the girls return next year to continue the good name for the team, says the JV coach.

Senior Courtney Liddle stated "I have loved playing on this team for four straight years. It has been a lot of fun playing with these girls."

Courtney Liddle

Coach : Joe Schelzo

"The team's diving goal this year is to make that final step to a state championship after having just a taste of that experience in 2008. We have the experience, the talent and the motivation to make it happen-the question is-will we have the character to complete the journey?"

The past few years of Battlefield Varsity Softball have been a success. The team had accomplished many achievements throughout the seasons such as: regular season champions, Cedar Run District tournament champions, Regional tournament champions, and Virginia AAA State Runner-up.

It takes dedication and skill to make and play on the Varsity team. This spring, Varsity Softball, has had the same success as previous seasons. The team has lived up to their reputation of never giving up and trying their hardest during every game.

The girls on the varsity team have been playing together since they were younger on little league teams. Each member of the team regards each other as members of their own family. Because of the many years knowing each other, it has affected the team and how they play. Every girl knows each others weaknesses, strengths, and limits, which help them play better together as a team.

The team works hard for what they want to accomplish. "We have an advantage this year since we have the experience of being at the state championship, we know what it takes to be there and we will do everything possible to get there again" says Junior Brittany Clendenny.

The varsity team opened their season up with a 4-1 victory over the Centreville Wildcats. This year the team has has been in the top ranking in the Post, the Nation and in ESPN.

Battle of the courts

Many people think that tennis is boring, but they are mistaken. It actually takes a lot of work and practice to develop the skills that our Battlefield High School tennis players have. Both teams practice hard to set a good foundation for their games. The season began for the girls and boys after tryouts on February 23rd. They practice every day after school from 2:45 to 4:00. They practice on how to play single matches and learn how to work together as a team for double matches. This can be challenging because when you're in a double match you have to try and predict what your team mate might do. Tennis is proved to be both physically and mentally challenging. The Girls Tennis team won their first match of the season against Osbourn 8-1 on March 11! The girls set their expectations high to be an undefeated team again like they were last year. The Boys Tennis team has started their year off with a great start. This guaranteed a great season. All team members showed brilliant structures in their arm swings. Senior Peter Jones says that "Tennis is the best sport made! No other sport is better." The boys went into this season with hopes of being undefeated. As the season progressed, the Boys Tennis team improved drastically. Dedication and practice was proved to conquer in this sport. This team represents Battlefield well both on the court with their strong forehands, accurate backhands, and outstanding sportsmanship. There's no doubt Battlefield's boys will continue to be stiff competition in the seasons to come.

Battle of the COMMUNITY

WE BATTLE TOGETHER

The following pages are filled with memories. Other than the generous businesses that sponsored this year's yearbook, these pages contain congratulations as well as good-byes from the loved ones of the Class of 2009. You will see pictures of them as recent as this year, or as old as when they were born. The fact is, this is it. Many of these pages bid our seniors farewell and good luck on their journey through life. Whether they are going off to college or off to work, we all wish them success in whatever it is that they do. Moms and dads, brothers and sisters, relatives and friends, all of them may be seen with those whom they love good luck. These four years have undoubtedly passed far too fast, and the upcoming seniors don't realize how quickly this time is coming for them. Goodbye and good luck to the Class of 2009.

Amanda Mowery

Amanda Panda, how fast you've grown.
Known as Velcro, now ready to navigate the world on your own.

As you coach in soccer you ran and you played,
But when you refused to run lap, on the bench you stayed!

In the 8th grade you were president,
A bright young lady and very confident.

Dad taught you to drive, Going backwards was a bust
But an afternoon in the Battlefield parking lot gained our trust.

When you turned thirteen, to Nashville we went,
We had a special time, I will always remember the event.

When your brother Dan gave you a trim
You were proud of the look and really showed him!

When Mike came along, you didn't scream and cry
You did, however, stick a finger in his eye!

To little sister, Hannah, you are an inspiration,
What a great person to give her motivation!

The years they sure did fly, and you have made us proud
You always were one, to stand out in a crowd.

You came into this world, a little tiny thing,
A woman you've become, it's time to spread your wings.

So as we set you free
Remember this for us

We love you more than words can say,
You will be in our hearts each and every day.

As you leave for college my dear,
You're always in our heart, whether far or near.

We love you,
Mom, Dad, Dan, Mike, Hannah

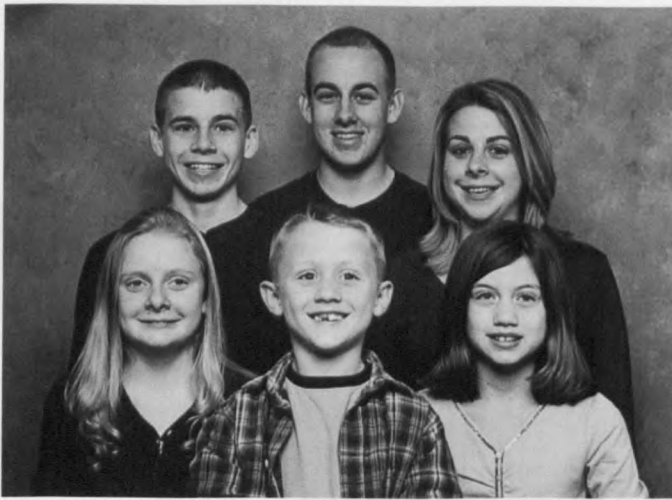

Amanda,

I am as proud of you now as I was the day you were born back in April 1991.

It's hard for me to realize you are no longer your mom's Velcro Kid- you are a grown up and beautiful young lady.

There is no doubt in my mind that you will go far in life and continue to make your Grandad proud.

I love you!

From a sweet, darling,
little boy to a tall,
intelligent young man-
you've finally made it!*

Congratulations and good luck on your next adventure at college.

*Love,
Mom and Dad*

Kristin Goff

*Soon you will be in your cap and tassel
Ready to make the world your castle.
It seems just yesterday you were a kid,
Watching everything we did.*

*Now we're watching you graduate--
The grown young woman we helped create!
On the wings of knowledge you will fly;
Following your vision and rising high.*

*We couldn't be prouder, Kristin, of you;
We wish you success in all that you do. Remember one thing we want you to know:
Our love is with you wherever you go.*

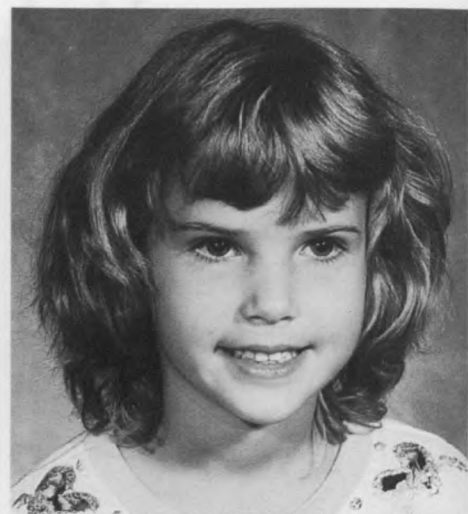

*Keep on learning,
Though your graduation's done;
You whole life's and education.*

*Love,
Mom and Dad*

Emily Deisher

Dear Emily,
 Congratulations! Now that you have High School behind you there is a bright future in front of you. It's been a fun journey watching you grow from our little girl into a young woman. We love you and wish you the best of luck in all you endeavor to achieve. Be confident and courageous and know that you can accomplish anything you set your mind to.

Amanda Lewis

*Seventeen years ago, you came into our lives and changed it forever. I am so thankful that God gave us this wonderful gift. I am very proud of the beautiful, caring and loving young lady you have become. You are the best daughter and big sister that we could ever ask for. As you go off to college, you will start the next chapter of your life.
I know you will be great in whatever you decide to do. Just know that we are always there for you.*

*Love you always,
Mom, Rinny and the rest of the family*

Krissy Peacock

Thank you for being our "sunshine" for the

Danielle Nicole Crabtree

Dani, it seems like only yesterday you were born our little "Jersey Girl", all smiles with a head of curls, most often found riding on your Mom's hip. As you grew, so did your interests, from Candyland, Barney, NSYNC, Sponge Bob to Jason Mraz and a recent interest in politics. But you have grown too quickly and now you are on the precipice of the great journey into your future, one in which we are confident you will have within your grasp the ability to achieve anything to which you set your mind. We know this because we have witnessed your friendly and outgoing nature, your scholastic and athletic abilities, your musical and writing talents as well as your drive to excel at anything you venture to try.

However, before you begin your adventure, reflect on how you got here. Being part of a tight knit family, where your two big brothers always watched out for you, certainly was a big part of your upbringing. Our family bonds grew strong through each of our many moves which included living on both coasts, as well as time in the nation's heartland. You made and maintain many a great friendships from these places and had many great experiences through both these relocations and our family travels. All of this has made you the well-rounded, inquisitive and mature individual you have become. Please don't forget the strength of your past as you begin your journey into your future.

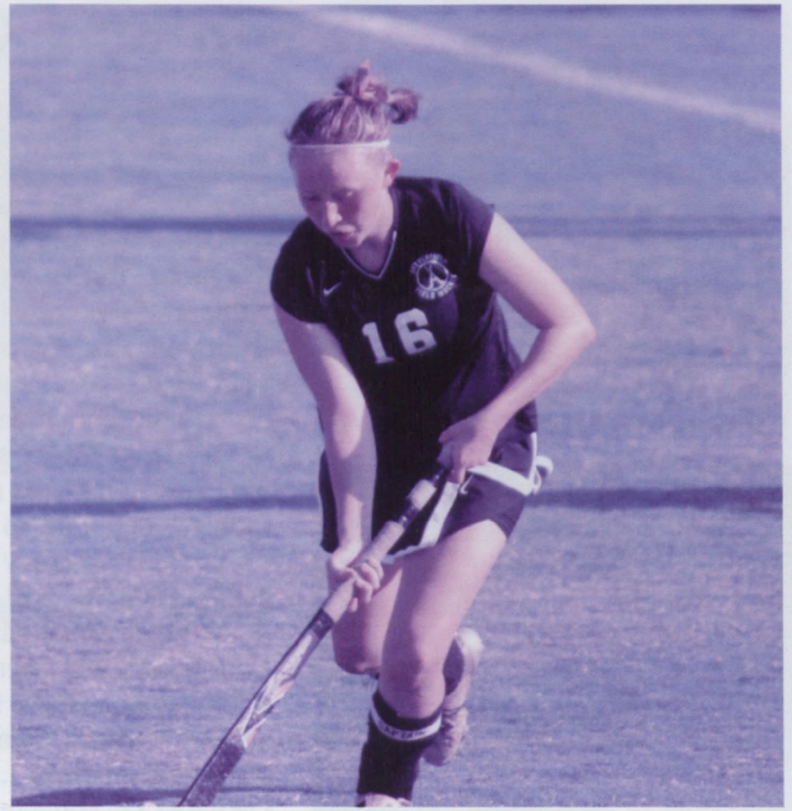

Perhaps it is the following quote which you have both held as your own and shared with others which makes us confident that you will follow your dreams into a life of both great challenges and significant accomplishments. Certainly they are words to live by: "Excellence is the result of caring more than others think is wise, risking more than others think is safe, dreaming more than others think is practical, and expecting more than others think is possible."

Congratulations and Love Always,
Dad and Mom

Rachel C. Bringham

Brittany Kerxton

Brittany,
We are all so proud of you! You've grown into such a beautiful young lady. It seems like yesterday you were heading off to your first day of school. You've created so many wonderful memories, for all of us, from your first day of kindergarten to your high school graduation. We will cherish these moments for the rest of our lives. We are so excited for you, as you take the next step into a future which holds so much promise for you. Grasp every opportunity life brings your way and never lose sight of the goals and dreams you chased. Your family and friends love you and will always be there for you. There is always comfort in knowing that. Always remember .... If you can DREAM IT, you can DO IT!!

We love you,
Mom, Dad, Kim, Taylor and Drew

Britini Michele Coleman

Our baby girl is all grown up! You have brought so much love and joy into our lives! We are so proud of the beautiful woman you have become, inside and out. The future is yours! Grab a hold of life, have confidence in yourself and make the most of every opportunity! Continue to work hard, be true to yourself and never give up! We believe in YOU. Be Happy, Laugh Often and Be Safe! All our love and best wishes for much success at Bridgewater and in everything you do! Hugs and Kisses!

Mom, Dad and Briana

Tyler Newton

Tyler,
We are so very proud of you and all that you have accomplished. As you move into college remember to always believe in yourself, challenge yourself and do not let any opportunity pass you by. Continue throughout your life with confidence, courage, strength and integrity. We will always be with you and we know you will succeed in whatever you choose to do. You are an amazing and loving young man and we are very blessed to have you as a son and brother.

With all our love,
Mom, Dad and Ryan

Jessica Jacobson

Sweetie,
Throughout your life it has been a pleasure to call you our daughter. You have given us so many wonderful memories and opportunities to be proud. Your smile, curly hair, and friendly nature can melt our hearts. Keep on dreaming and striving to reach your goals. Congratulations Jess!!!

We love you very much,
Dad, Mom & Sara

Heather Nicole Miller

Congratulations Kid!

We are so proud of you! It has been a joy to watch you grow into and intelligent, beautiful woman. Thank you for the sunshine you bring to our lives. Your smile will always be special to us. Continue to use your insight to help others. Believe in yourself and continue to follow your dreams. You are the author of your future.

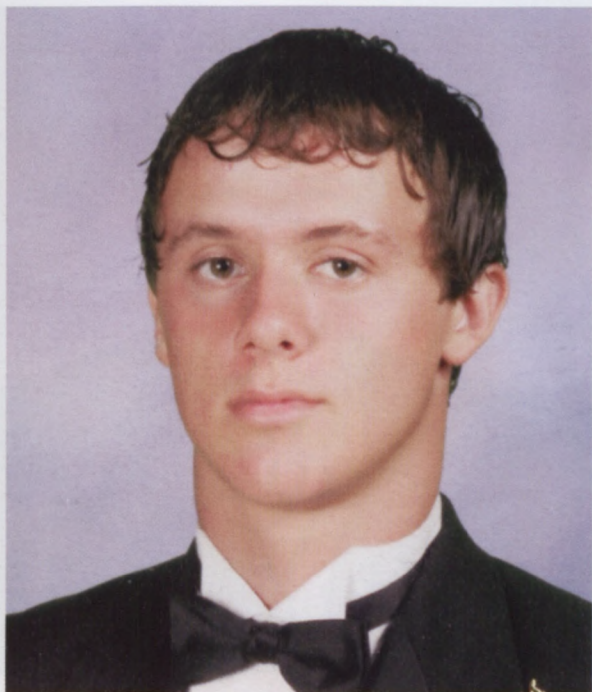

May God bless you always.

All of our love,

Ma mère, Dad, Matt, Katie & Chris

Kyle "TEXAS" Stevens

When you were born, we had no idea what we were getting ourselves into and now 18 years later, we are still trying to figure it all out. What we do know is that you have grown into a fine young man, a man who never accept "NO" for an answer, a man who has big dreams and the ambition to make them come true. Continue to be yourself and remember to always live life to the fullest and love with passion. You will always have our love, admiration and respect. Congratulations! You did it!

Mom, Dad, Rhiann, Grandma and Great Grandma

P.S. If the Air Force doesn't work out, try the other 3 before you decide to move back home. LOL

Matt Kenyon

It hardly seems possible that seventeen years could pass so quickly. Since the day you were born, you have filled our lives with love, joy and laughter. We feel extremely blessed by God to have you as our son. Throughout the years we have come to respect and admire the choices you have made. Your hard work and perseverance has helped you to shine both on the athletic field and off. While we are incredibly proud of your achievements, however, it is your moral fortitude and values that have come to epitomize your character. We are so proud of the man you have become. May God Bless you as you begin this new phase in your life.

Cherish all your memories, learn from every new challenge, but most important - follow your dreams. We love you. ~Mom and Dad

Matt,

I want you to remember that goals are not measured by what we are attempting to obtain; instead, they are measure by what we are willing to sacrifice. I have full confidence that as you embark on the next chapter of your life, you will make the sacrifices necessary to achieve your goals without conceding your faith, morals, or values. I am proud of the difficulties you have faced and the challenges you have overcome. I have enjoyed the blessing you have bestowed on our family in these early stages of your life and look forward to unlimited future possibilities. You are my brother, my friend and my confidant; as you go forth into adulthood remember that you will always be my little brother and that I will always be there for you. Love, Jason

Meaghan,
You have become such a wonderful young lady. We could not be more proud of you. You have touched the hearts of so many with your kindness. Your motivation and enthusiasm are infectious and an inspiration to all who know you. The future is yours to shape. Keep reaching for the stars. You are in control of your destiny. Look out world, here you come.

Love,
Mom, Dad and Brendan

Gabrielle Widawski

At the moment you were born, the doctor said, "Well Hello beautiful!" You are beautiful inside and out. You are a kind and caring person who looks out for her family and friends. Always know that you have the love and support of your family. We are so very proud of you, Gabrielle.

*May you always have enough happiness to keep you sweet:
enough trial to keep you strong:
enough success to keep you eager:
enough faith to give you courage:
and enough determination to make each day a good day.*

We love you!

Kaylyn Shaffer

Kaylyn,
It seems like yesterday that we were taking our precious baby girl home from the hospital. You have given us such joy watching you grow into a beautiful young lady. You put every ounce of energy in all that you do. There are no words to describe how proud we are of you. As you take the journey onwards through life we wish only the very best for you. That your life be filled with joy and peace and that all your dreams come true. We love you with all our hearts. Remember we will always be here for you.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Brendan and Allie

Katelyn Charlotte Walters

Congratulations to you and all your friends as you graduate from Battlefield High School. As a child, you set your goals high and with great tenacity, triumphed over life's obstacles. As a young teen, you become committed to excellence. As a young lady with great integrity and strength you will meet all of life's challenges. Be safe as you enjoy your new freedom away from home. You are already successful and have a proud family behind you. We love you.....

Congratulations on your acceptance to attend the College of William and Mary, Class of 2013!

Melissa Riley

Missy,

You have been a blessing since the day you were born. Through the "shy" years, pre-school, baton, t-ball, soccer, brownies, girl scouts, unicycling, field hockey Fridays with Grandma Jean and Sundays with Grandma Agnes and the most dramatic of all "Kayla Moving" All the school projects and activities. We could not have asked for a more wonderful daughter. Good Luck in anything you do in life. You are special. -Daddy and Mom

Miss-

You are our sister and friend. Don't forget "Hi Ya and Baby" The best is yet to come. Love ya! -Jeffrey, Mary and Marty

Megan Santos

Megan,

You're finally a college girl! Crazy, Huh? It seems like yesterday we were kids: playing in the sun room in the Portland house, hanging out in Overland Park, living it up back in Delhi. Pretty crazy how quickly time has flown by. However great those days were, the past couple of years in Virginia have meant a lot to me. It was a true learning experience, but I couldn't have asked for a better person to experience it all with than my sister. I feel that we've grown a lot closer since we've been here, and I am so grateful for that. Megan, you are a great sister and an even better friend, and I love you so much. You've got a bright future ahead of you, Meg! I am beyond proud of you!)

Your brother, and friend,
Blake

We are extremely proud of you Meg!! While we will miss you terribly, having lived overseas nearly half of your life, we are both confident that these unique experiences will allow you to contribute in a positive way to the world around you. Never lose your outstanding work ethic, your passion for life and your curiosity for those things yet to be discovered. You are an incredible young lady and are dearly loved!!!
-Mom and Dad

Ashley Tallman

Our baby has grown up! From the day you were born, you've made us so proud. Your kind heart, moral integrity and sense of humor have been a joy to us all. May the road ahead of you bring all the success and happiness that you deserve.

*Love always,
Mom, Dad, Chris & Alli*

Zachary Cutchins

Congratulations Zach
We're very proud of you, and we know you'll be successful in whatever you do.
Love,
Mom, Scott, and the rest of the family

Seems like yesterday you were our tiny lovable "Noodle" attending Little Friends preschool. Now, look at the beautiful, bright young woman you've become! We couldn't be happier for you or more proud of you. We hope your dreams take you to the corners of your smile.

Love always,
Mom and Dad

Colophon

The Lynx Book was printed in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania by Herff Jones Yearbooks. The local representative was Lisa Heiser and the customer service representative was Debbie Drobenak. Herff Jones supplied all the student portrait pictures, many of the sports pictures, and several special event pictures, through Victor Oneil Studios.

The Lynx had a press run of 1200 copies and sold them for $70. The cover plan is Vista Custom Embossed. Its base is Metallic VTEX-Brush black diamond. "Battle" is embossed and "Field" on the cover is debossed. All pages were created using Adobe InDesign CS3 and digital pictures.

Ryne Adkins serves as Editor-in-Chief, with Co-Editors Sammie Houser, Gretchen Schumaker, Britni Coleman, Carly Glenn, and Hannah Yelinek. Devin Starrs served as the Business/Financial Manager.

The Lynx Staff would like to thank our adviser, Mr. Fitzgerald, for his expertise in proofreading and editing. He has served as the advisor since the school opened, but he will not be returning for the 2009-2010. He was as much of a friend as he was an advisor and he will be missed. We wish him luck at his new job.

We would also like to thank Lisa Heiser for her patience in working with us throughout the production of the book.

Every good story must come to an end, and this is the end of this one. From here, the Class of 2009 moves forward, either towards the fast times of college or the hard realities of life. Either way, the battle continues. Like most years, we will probably throw this book away in the corner to collect dust, pulling it out on occasion to take a look back. The Class of '09, however, will pull this out one day, and immediately memories will rush back: Football games & pep-rallies, too much homework and too much fun, friends and teachers, packed hallways and compressed classrooms. . . All of which made them who they are today.

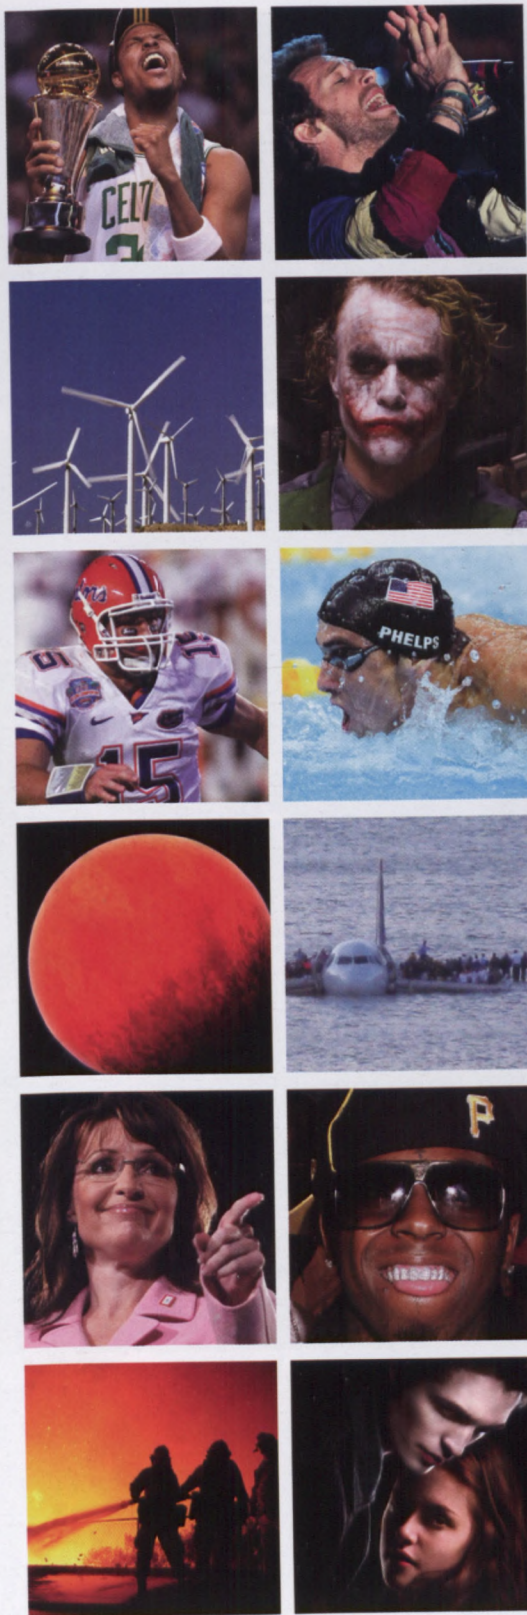

Life is a battle, and it always will be. The challenge we face is to win it. We all have our goals and dreams, things we want to do to make our lives "meaningful." The fact is that if even one life has breathed easier because you were alive, you have succeeded. Live life with your head held high, meeting every battle with a strong heart.

From here, some will go off to college, and then to work. Some will grow up and raise a family, putting everything they have into its well-being. Some will leave Virginia and never come back, off pursuing their own dreams. And some will be sent away, off to fight real battles for our freedom. Whatever the case, live life with a pure heart and a strong mind and you will win this BATTLE.

Ryne Adkins – Editor-in-Chief

HERFF JONES.

TIGER WOODS won his third U.S. Open title at Torrey Pines, outlasting Rocco Mediate on the 19th hole of a play-off. BILL GATES, Microsoft's chairman and largest shareholder, marked the unofficial end of his career, "retiring" to spend more time guiding his charitable foundation. NASA's space shuttle Discovery landed safely in Florida after delivering a new Japanese laboratory to the International Space Station.

NEW ORLEANS RAPPER LIL WAYNE grew his fan base with free songs, then sold more than a million copies of "Tha Carter III" in a week, the first album since 2005 to do so.

MIDWESTERN FLOODING caused by severe storms that dropped nearly a foot of rain from Iowa to Michigan and Indiana displaced thousands and left at least eight dead.

A TENNESSEE REPEAT made Coach Pat Summitt's Lady Vols the NCAA champions for a second consecutive year; Candace Parker won back-to-back MVP honors.

OBAMA'S NOMINATION

made history when, on June 3, 2008, Barack Obama finally had what he needed — more than 2,118 delegates — to clinch the Democratic nomination and become the first African-American with a viable chance of winning the United States presidency. Obama, an Illinois senator in office less than four years, and New York senator and former First Lady Hillary Clinton had campaigned from coast to coast for months for the right to face Republican John McCain in the Nov. 4 general election.

"THE DARK KNIGHT,"

a sequel to Christopher Nolan's "Batman Begins," shattered box office records with its July release. In just 10 days, the superhero thriller brought in more than $300 million at the box office, eclipsing the mark held by "Dead Man's Chest" by nearly a week. Filmed in Chicago, the movie's special effects, musical scores and viral marketing added to its allure and mystique. "The Dark Knight" was nominated for eight Academy Awards, including a posthumous nod for Heath Ledger (for Best Supporting Actor as the Joker). Attempting to enhance its Oscar-winning chances and to surpass $1 billion in worldwide gross, the film was re-released on Jan. 23, 2009.

THE OLYMPICS

meant national pride, athletic competition, pageantry and more. More than 10,000 athletes competed in 300-plus events in 28 sports at 31 competitive venues, many of which had been constructed specifically for the Olympics. An estimated 6.8 million tickets were sold for the various competitions, and the Beijing Olympics was officially the most-watched television event of all time. Through 16 days of coverage, 211 million viewers tuned in to the Olympics on NBC. Among the American success stories were Kerri Walsh and Misty May-Treanor's consecutive golds in beach volleyball, the gold won by U.S. men's basketball team after a disappointing bronze in Athens and swimmer Michael Phelps' eight golds, which brought his lifetime total to 14 Olympic golds.

Fewer than 150,000 U.S., U.K., Australian and Romanian troops remained on Iraqi soil.

TWILIGHT, the first in a series of romantic/vampire fantasy novels, exceeded expectations at the box office, prompting immediate discussion of additional adaptations.

WIND FARMS continued to spring up at a record pace in 2008 as Americans sought cost-effective sources for zero-emission power. Texas, Iowa and California led production.

GUITAR HERO AND ROCK BAND continued their battle for virtual musicians; with 4 million units sold (to Guitar Hero's 23 million), Rock Band included drummers.

GOVERNMENT BAILOUTS

were back in the news for the first time since the terrorist attacks of 9/11 crippled the already-ailing airline industry. Beginning with a $30 million assist in the March acquisition of financial giant Bear Stearns by JP Morgan Chase, a series of federal aid bills aimed at preventing collapses of myriad finance and investment businesses were signed into effect. In October, President George Bush signed a $700 billion financial bailout package which would allow the government to start buying up troubled assets from financial institutions caught in the home foreclosure epidemic.

VICTORY SPEECH

Flanked by his wife Michelle and daughters Sasha (7) and Malia (10), Obama addressed the more than 250,000 gathered in Grant Park and millions more who watched on television. "If there is anyone out there who still doubts that America is a place where all things are possible; who still wonders if the dream of our founders is alive in our time; who still questions the power of our democracy, tonight is your answer," he said. Vice President-elect Joe Biden and his wife Jill shared the stage.

SHEPARD FAIREY's collage portrait of Obama became a popular poster and T-shirt during the campaign. Before Inauguration Day, the piece by the L.A. street artist also hung in the National Portrait Gallery. GLOBAL REACTION generally favorable; world leaders and random citizens voiced support for Obama in media worldwide.
